Taft Cheered At Illinois GOP Dinner

Says Republicans Alone Can Promise Return to Honesty

CHICAGO, Nov. 3—(AP)—Illinois Republicans made the rafters ring with cheers for Senator Taft (R-Ohio) last night at a $100-a-plate dinner in the International Ampitheater.

Taft told 4,4300 diners and some 2,000 free balcony guests "the Republican party alone can promise a return to honesty and thrift and sound finance" in the federal government.

The Ohio senator is thus far the only major candidate who has declared himself a contender for the 1952 GOP presidential nomination.

The exclusively partisan audience which had paid $430,000 for the evening's speeches — some $400,000 of it net funds for state and national campaign chests—heard Taft blame "stupidity" of Democratic administrations for the Korean war, inflation, controls, big government spending and high taxes.

"All of this emergency," he said, "was encouraged and built up by the stupidity of administration foreign policy after our boys had won the war.

"In my book, if there is one unforgivable result of any foreign policy, it is an unnecessary war. Such a war we are fighting today in Korea."

Taft said "Mr. Truman began the Korean war on his own initiative without the slightest authority from Congress or the Constitution. For two weeks after he started that war, he did not even consult Congress. This is a Truman war. It is not necessary because it could have been avoided."

Removal of U. S. troops from Korea three years ago, he said, "is a foreign policy mistake primarily responsible for the war in Korea."

Taft told his audience that the Republicans must avoid a "me-too" campaign next year, and present their issues clearly and forcefully. If that is done, he said, "there is no doubt about the overwhelming election of a Republican president and a Republican Congress in 1952."

Says MacArthur Will Back Taft

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Nov. 3—(AP)—If Sen. Robert A. Taft gets the Republican presidential nomination, says ex-congressman Hamilton Fish, Gen. Douglas MacArthur "will stump for him at every whistle stop."

And, Fish further predicts, Taft "will carry a majority of both northern and southern states" in the 1952 election.

The former Republican congressman, in an address here last night, said MacArthur was not interested "for himself" but "wants to oust the so-called Democratic socialists from office."

Speaking of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Fish said it would be the "greatest disservice to this country" to take him away from his defense post in Europe. Eisenhower has been mentioned as a possible GOP candidate.

MacArthur could not be reached for comment.

Bomb Rocks Downtown Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 3—(AP) — A strong bomb blast rocked downtown Buenos Aires today, damaging a printing plant which published Mrs. Eva Perons book, "The Reason For My Life."

It was not immediately known whether the explosion caused any casualties.

Mrs. Peron is the wife of the Argentine President, Juan D. Peron, who is campaigning for a new six-year term in the Nov. 11 elections.

The bomb burst at the corner of Cangallo and San Martin Streets, breaking windows in the Casa Peuser printing plant. Other neighboring buildings also were damaged.

Other violent incidents have accompanied the election campaign.

Vote for Your Schools

(AN EDITORIAL)

MOST important of the special ballots to be voted on in Marion's election Tuesday, Nov. 6, is one providing for a 4-mill tax levy to meet essential current expenses of the city's public schools. The levy will be in effect for a period of four years.

The additional revenue is urgently needed to maintain school operations on a basis of modern efficiency comparing with other schools in Ohio. Records show the tax revenue here is now far below that requirement.

This does not mean that the present standard of educational training in our schools is low. Much to the contrary, it rates with the best.

But credit for this belongs entirely to our able school management and our excellent teaching staff.

They are doing their work in the face of difficulties and handicaps, a fact which provides special proof of their outstanding ability and character and is also unmistakable evidence that they are entitled to receive more adequate consideration and reward from the community they serve.

Their work will become more difficult as time passes and educational operations here grow in extent and scope. Marion's population is increasing steadily and with it school buildings are to be added and old ones enlarged. More teachers and more department heads will be required and salary scales will have to be raised if Marion is to get and retain the services of competent personnel.

Now the pay scale is low in comparison with other Ohio communities. We rank 93rd in a list of 113 city school systems. Last year pay for teachers in Marion averaged $600 less than the average in Ohio.

There is only one explanation for this—Marion is not obtaining tax revenue for school purposes comparable with that of other communities.

The latest survey shows that of 101 city school systems in the state, Marion's operating levy is in 80th place.

In the 16 Ohio cities with populations of 30,000 to 100,000, the local school tax revenue averages $174.91 per pupil. The highest is $306.01 and Marion is at the bottom of the list with $94.08.

Other statistics could be cited as evidence of our failure to provide sufficient funds for schools.

Therefore, it is not difficult for us to understand that this situation must be changed if we are to keep our schools functioning at a standard adequate for a city which has pride and hopes to hold its own in competition with other communities. In this competition, those which offer the best educational advanages for their boys and girls will be the ones most likely to stay in the forefront of desirable places for employment and homes.

Passage of the 4-mill school operating levy next Tuesday will provide the additional revenue required for making sure that Marion will hold its high rating among Ohio's public school systems. Your vote is needed to help prevent a lowering of your community's educational standard.

Auto-Truck Crash Kills Two Soldiers

MEDINA, O., Nov. 3—(AP)—A skidding automobile slammed broadside into a truck early today on U. S. Route 42 and two soldiers were thrown from the car and killed.

The State Highway Patrol said, Pvt. Roy Benge, 21, of Lorain and Pfc. William Keith, 20, of Waynesburg, Ky., were dead before they reached a hospital at Lodi, two miles south of the crash.

The victims were headed south when their sedan skidded on icy pavement and hurtled into a northbound truck driven by Melvin Ashmead, 47, of Cleveland, who was unhurt. His heavily loaded tractor-trailer ripped the car open and tossed it into a ditch.

Kenton Phone Rate Boost Uncontested

'Service Is Answer, Manager Explains; PUC OKs $40,791

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3—(UP)—The State Public Utilities Commission yesterday granted the Kenton Telephone Co. a $40,791 rate increase.

Within a half-hour after a hearing on the case, the PUC asked that orders be prepared at once. The orders were expected to be signed sometime this afternoon or tomorrow. There were no protestants at today's hour-long hearing.

J. D. Park, manager of the company and its only witness, testified the company's customers and stockholders had no complaints on service or dividends and added that the firm had not been granted an increase since 1926.

He said proposed rates would be equal to or lower than those in other telephone territories.

Commission Amazed

PUC chairman Robert Moulton asked Park, "how is it that your company can operate on a return of less than four per cent with apparently satisfied subscribers when other companies in Ohio can't even come close to doing it?"

Park replied, "We've always had good public and private rela-

Victory Scored Over King Winter

Miss Simmons Reigns At Homecoming Event

By FRANCES HAAS

King Winter who made an early arrival in Marion yesterday, failed to daunt the spirits of Miss Suzie Simmons last night when she reigned as Homecoming Queen at the Harding-Columbus South football game.

The honor of Queen was bestowed on Miss Simmons in a pregame ceremony at the Harding Stadium in which the school marching band participated.

A crowd of about 600 persons was on hand for the game and Homecoming activities, despite snow which fell throughout the game, accompanied by below freezing temperatures.

Miss Simmons is the fifth Harding student to receive the honor, the Homecoming idea having been instituted in 1947 by the Athletic Association. Previous queens have been Iris Eckels, Dorothie Clunk, Gloria Cummins and Joey Rayburn.

One of the outstanding events was selection of the oldest Marion high school graduate present. The distinction this year went to Mrs. Lowell Guthery of 451 Merchant Ave., who was graduated with the class of 1907. She was presented a watch in honor of the

Steel Shortage Holds Up Y Construction

NPA Approval Denied But OK May Come Early Next Year

An application to start construction work on the new Marion YMCA was turned down this week by the National Production Authority because of the shortage of building materials, principally steel.

Approval may be granted early in 1952, however.

The NPA promised careful and sympathetic consideration of the Marion Y application, indicating approval may be granted for starting construction in the second quarter of 1952.

The government controls agency acknowledged the "tremendous need" for the new building to be constructed on East Church street, YMCA officials reported.

The agency said it was doubtful if the project could be started during the first quarter of 1952 since building projects already started will be given top priority on scare building materials before new projects are approved.

Plans and specifications for the new building have been approved by the building committee and the directors but bids will not be asked on the project until the Y is assured of receiving NPA approval, a YMCA spokesman said.

J. B. Bray, who served as chairman of the recent fund campaign, visited with NPA officials in Washington this week. He is confident approval will be received by April.

The NPA said a total of only 30,000 tons of structural steel is available for use in non-defense building in the first quarter of 1952 and building requests on hand now would require 164,000 tons.

Steel Approved For Waldo School Job

Allocation of 22 tons of structural steel by the Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency in Washington, D.C., has given the Waldo Board of Education the green light for the remodeling, repair and construction of an addition to the Waldo School building.

Thomas W. Rayburn, architect in charge of the work, has been notified, and announcement also was made in Washington by Rep Betts, Eight District congressman, an Associated Press dispatch reported today.

Allocation of the steel for the Waldo work is encouraging news for the Marion Board of Education, now awaiting similar news to start work on the erection of a new high school building.

Funds for the improvement were provided by the Waldo community when a $160,000 bond issue was approved in an election held last April.

Home Banks Looted In Marion Burglary

Someone entered the home of Otis Christian at 667 Marshall St. between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. yesterday and took $3.50 in small change from two banks, police reported today. Entry was made by opening the front door with a skeleton key. Nothing else was disturbed, police said.

Korea Vets Due Back By Christmas

Applies to Enlisted Men Serving On Front Since Jan. 1

TOKYO, Nov. 3—(AP)—It's "home by Christmas" for nearly every U.S. enlisted man who has been fighting on the Korean front since last Jan. 1.

That was the virtual promise in an announcement from headquarters of the boss man of the United Nations command, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Ridgway said he was making the announcement to clear up a little misinformation that all enlisted men "would be relieved from Korea prior to the onset of a second winter."

"It is entirely beyond the capabilities of the Army," Ridgway's announcement said, "to relieve those 50,000 non-divisional personnel in Korea who are serving in Army rear areas."

Officers Must Wait

All divisional officers, unlike their men, also will have to wait for "qualified replacements" before they can go home.

Then Ridgway got down to what many a fighting man has been waiting to hear. He said:

"Except for a few critical specialists and special categories of personnel, all enlisted men who were serving with infantry divisions in Korea on Jan. 1 of this year will be out of the lines and on their way home by the end of November."

While the announcement did not specifically say Ridgway wanted all his front line enlisted men home by Christmas, it was understood at his headquarters that this was the plan.

If they are on their way home by the end of November, as the announcement said, they could make it. Ships sailing from Japan on the last day of November will have docked at some Pacific Port by mid-December.

Wants Troops Informed

Ridgway said he wanted "all troops and their commanders fully informed of the true situation."

"Rear area troops," he said, "are well sheltered and protected, and the maximum effort must continue to be devoted to the relief of front line troops."

Then the supreme commander made clear that the plan applied "only to enlisted men serving with infantry divisions, who accrue four consecutive months of service for each month served on the front lines."

"It does not apply to officers serving in these divisions," the announcement continued, "or to individuals to the rear of infantry divisions in service areas in Korea, who accrue only two consecutive months of service for each actual month served.

"These troops normally must serve at least 18 months in Korea and quite obviously many of them must remain a second winter there. There are more than 50,000 of these troops who were serving in Korea on Jan. 1 of this year."

General Says His Talks Will Be Military

Public Political Announcement Not Expected

WASHINGTON Nov. 3—(AP)—Although Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's return to Washington may bring no public political announcement, Republicans plugging for him to become their party's 1952 presidential candidate apparently hoped today to gain some private assurances of his possible availability.

Eisenhower himself has put it strictly up to President Truman whether any political discussions may pass between the two men in two days of conferences next week.

The general is due at Fort Knox, Ky., about noon today. He'll spend the weekend there with his family and come on to Washington Monday.

Before taking off from Paris yesterday, the general told reporters he was making the trip, under presidential orders, to talk over "strictly military" affairs with Mr. Truman and other national leaders.

When reporters asked him if any political subjects would come up in talks with the President, the general replied with a grin:

"Not from my point it won't."

No Announcement

This apparently indicated that Eisenhower has no intention during his hurry-up visit of making any public political statement or of permitting his well-wishers to put him on the record about his intentions.

Eisenhower backers were quick to point out, however, that the general didn't exclude discussion of politics with friends who might see him socially in periods between his round of White House and Pentagon conferences.

One who has announced he plans to see the general is Senator Duff (R-Pa). He plans to wait until Monday night or Tuesday to call on the five-star visitor.

Duff, who has expressed confidence Eisenhower can be drafted for the GOP nomination, obviously wants to reassure himself on that point. He also may urge a January statement by the general which would establish him as a Republican and as being available for any call to duty that might come from his country.

Duff is flying to Texas Wednesday for a round of speeches and conferences with Republican leaders in that state. He obviously would like to take along with him some more concrete substantiation of his claim that the general is available, even if only for use in private conversations with leaders.

Speaks For Self Alone

Eisenhower spoke for himself alone when he said his talks with President Truman will involve only "strictly military" matters. A close friend of Mr. Truman, who asked not to be quoted by name, told reporters he would be surprised if the conversation doesn't turn in time to the lenth of Eisenhower's future service as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

The general indicated he is loathe to make any statement even remotely political while he is in uniform.

The President's friend—who doesn't believe Mr. Truman will run again—said he thinks "the boss" will want to know Eisenhower's attitude toward the draft movement being fanned for him by Duff, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and others.

GAME STILL ON

St. Mary and Mansfield Madison will play their scheduled football game here tonight despite the cold and snow. Officials of both schools had considered calling the game if last night's weather continued. The decision to go on with the game was reached shortly after noon today. The game at Harding stadium is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

U.N. Truce Team Makes New Proposal

Suggest Disputed Kaesong Be Put In Demilitarized Zone

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 3—(AP)—United Nations truce negotiators in a surprise move proposed to the Communists today that disputed Kaesong be placed in a demilitarized zone. Decision on the Red-held city was the final main issue blocking agreement on a Korean armistice cease-fire line.

Red negotiators at the Panmunjom talks apparently were cool toward the oral offer of the United Nations but a U. N spokesman said the Communists "had not categorically turned down the proposal."

He said the Communists repeated the reasons why they felt Kaesong and its surrounding high terrain should remain in their control.

The U. N. allies want Kaesong, situated about two miles south of Parallel 38, to protect the northern approaches to Seoul, 34 miles to the southeast.

Blame Death And Illness on Poison

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3—(AP)—One patient died and three others became seriously ill at Longview State Hospital late yesterday, and there seemed "no doubt" that poisoned food was to blame, the superintendent reported.

Dr. E. A. Baber said his investigation today showed the presence of carbolic acid disinfectant in a supply of eggnog and milk kept in a refrigerator of the ward to which the patients were confined.

Dr. Baber declared there seemed to be no doubt that the poisoned patients got the carbolic acid through the eggnog and milk, but so far there was no indication as to how the acid got into the drinks.

He identified the man who died as Edward Claus, 40, who was admitted to Longview in 1932.

Most of Nation Shivers

Temperature Drops to 17 Above As Cold Wave Grips Marion

Residents of the Marion area were caught in an early-season cold wave which swept through most of the nation yesterday and last night.

Snow and icy streets greeted early risers today and the thermomter skidded to 17 above at mid-morning, following a reading of 20 degrees at 7:30 a.m. The appearance of the sun started the mercury upward near noon. The day's forecast is "continued cold and snow and rain in some sections."

Old timers chalk up the "spell of weather" as one of the coldest early November's in years. Record low temperatures were reported in many areas with sub-zero temperatures reported ranging from the Rockies to Lake Superior.

7-Inch Snow in Chardon

In Ohio snow measuring two inches or more in most places fell yesterday afternoon and last night. Much of it melted as quickly as it hit the ground, but in Chardon, Geauga County seat, it piled up to a depth of seven inches.

In the process of falling, it wrecked dozens of high school football games, causing an epidemic of fumbles and the postponement of a score or more contests, The Associated Press reported.

Icy streets were reported in many places and traffic accidents increased.

Temperatures were reported unusually low for early November in most places.

The weather man predicted clear skies for Western Ohio and somewhat warmer throughout the state Sunday.

Football Game Called

Rain and snow caused a power failure in Minerva, near Youngstown, and the lights went out early in the third quarter of the Minerva-Malvern football game. The game was called with Minerva ahead 20-7.

In Marietta, Athens, Lancaster, and dozens of other cities snow came down so thick during the football games that only a handful of fans were left when the contests ended. Players fumbled and sloshed around the fields. High winds made kicking difficult.

The temperature at the Columbus airport dropped to 26 early today and was expected to hover around 25 for today's football game between Ohio State and Northwestern.

South Affected, Too

The unseasonable cold and snow fanned out across the country, even dipping into the southland.

Only the extreme southeast and southwest desert regions escaped the brisk breezes, snow and rain.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WHEN President Truman returned to his office after entertaining the gracious English prince and princess, he faced a king-sized headache. For on his desk was a confidential report, quietly submitted by his high economic counselors, advising him to expect run-away inflation, uncontrollable, sky-rocketing prices and wages — in the next 12 months.

That's not all that's uncontrollable these days. CIO leaders, who will confirm the presidential report when they take their convention platform in the coming week, report a mysteriously-led rash of wildcat "rank-and-file" strikes sprouting in the grass roots.

Victor Riesel

These are flash stoppages. Many walkouts are being led by strangers. And, although completely disavowed by the responsible national union leadership, these wildcats are effective. Sometimes violent, they have cooled blast furnaces, shut down auto plants and disrupted peaceful labor negotiations. They point grimly to a restive—instead of festive — Thanksgiving, as unknown leaders dash on the scene, shout about run-away prices, high rents, speeded-up production and then disappear.

Even in this pier-paralyzed city, the most startling strike news came from a visitor—the handsomest and certainly one of the most effective of America's labor leaders—David McDonald, second in command to Phil Murray in the CIO's Steelworkers' Union. Puffing away on his pipe so that it gave off smoke like an old locomotive coal burner, McDonald revealed that a considerable amount of steel production had been slashed in the past months by a series of these stoppages.

"OUR PEOPLE had just completed negotiating with the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co., down in Birmingham, Ala.", McDonald told us. "As they walked back to the plant and union headquarters, there was a picket line at the gate. We didn't authorize it. We weren't striking. But some of our people were, and we still don't know who provoked and organized it. But they were yelling about speed-up."

That one threw 14,000 people out for a while when the company was forced to bank six blast furnaces. That's a lot of lost steel. McDonald disclosed other such wildcats in the Chicago area, jam-packed with sprawling mills, and in Johnstown, Pa.

First there's unrest. Then disrupted production because of short strikes. And the leadership, such as McDonald, just find it impossible to pinpoint responsibility for the walkouts—obviously engineered by some organized group.

This thing is spreading. Everywhere you go you hear the mysterious words "rank-and-file committee." I learned, for example, a few weeks ago that a group inside the Electro-motive Division of General Motors was planning such a flash stoppage. Then that group learned that the Auto Union leadership itself (in Chicago) had some grievances and planned to call an official strike against speeded-up production. The first group met and switched plans. Now it's working on prolonging the official walkout if it's called—or attempting to provoke a strike if the responsible leadership makes peace with the company.

AT FORD, the "rank-and-file" has gone wild. It's screaming for a national Ford strike unless Walter Reuther delivers to them no less than $60 a week for unemployment insurance, most of the year round; a 30-hour week with 40 hours pay to spread jobs, and a lot of other pie in the sky demands. Watch that crowd; they'll walk.

There are a series of flash strikes scheduled for the General Electric jet and atomic plants. The rank-and-file just doesn't return after lunch. Then they make it up by working overtime. No picket lines, just no workers in the p. m., are the plans. The rank-and-file loses no money, but the company loses production in disrupted schedules.

Then there is the New York waterfront, on which roving rank-and-file squads are getting real tough — gun in the belly stuff, men beaten on day-lit streets, cars ripped and rocks heaved.

The record's swiftly being filled with these stoppages—some costing only $1,000, others crippling over one billion dollars worth of merchandise. There's even a rank-and file committee in the ladies' millinery line. Everywhere a contract expires, the "rank-and-filers" swing into action.

It throws contract negotiations back into the jungle days. Younger workers are learning that their squads can be tough and upset agreements made between their regular leaders and their companies. Every time they get higher wages, the rank-and-file screams prices are higher. That's dangerous.

Soon nobody will be able to control anything.

Heidelberg Co-Eds Take Over Campus Leave-Raking Job

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 3 — Heidelberg College is proud of its wooded campus. A number of years ago a Heidelberg alumnus undertook the task of labeling with metal tags the most outstanding of the more than 50 different species of trees on the 35-acre campus.

However, at this season the fallen leaves produce a disposal problem. The rich colors of the past few weeks must now be removed from the grounds. Biggest part of this task is taken over by girls of the Hesperian Literary Society, one of the campus social groups. Clad in sweaters and jeans the girls rake the leaves into long windows to be trucked away by the janitors for composting.

The system works out well. The girls have fun at their job on sunny autumn afternoons; the campus gets cleaned up with a minimum of effort and expense; and the girls build up the treasury of their society for a banquet and other activities.

Phillips Takes Stand, Denies Killing Woman

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3—(AP)—George Phillips took the stand in his own defense yesterday and denied he killed Mrs. Ruth K. Alter or went to her home last April 25 when she was beaten and strangled.

Then the two-week-old second-degree murder trial recessed until Monday.

Phillips, a 23-year-old Columbus insurance salesman, also was questioned by Defense Attorney Paul M. Herbert about his movements last April 25. Herbert filed an alibi defense.

Time of the death of the 32-year-old Columbus housewife has been fixed at somewhere between 8:30 a.m. and noon.

Defense witnesses already have testified about Phillips' whereabouts between 8 and 11 a.m. and between noon and evening.

In yesterday's testimony, Phillips said he was in the downtown area between 11 a.m. and noon last April 25. He said he spent the early part of the morning at the insurance office where he worked and the afternoon making insurance collections.

Phillips also testified he met Mrs. Alter five or six years ago when she worked in a restaurant owned by his father.

Herbert said Phillips will resume his testimony Monday. Then he will be cross examined by Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett.

Can we expect our youth to be properly educated when we spend only $171 a year on each child in school and the average city the size of Marion spends $212

It is therefore, vitally important that each and everyone of us vote Tuesday on the proposed 4 Mill School Levy. We can not rely on some one else to do our share . . . for the additional funds must be raised if we are to educate Marion's youth on a basis comparable with other school systems.

Accused Czech Spy Barred Three Years

War Bride Finally Wins Entry to U.S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—German war bride Ellen Knauff, barred from the United States for three years as a Czech spy, was in the United States today for "permanent residence."

She stepped ashore from Ellis Island less than two hours after U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath in Washington announced his approval of her entry.

"First of all," she told newsmen on her arrival in Manhattan, "I want to get in touch with my husband, Kurt.

"Next I want to have a lobster supper.

"Next? Well—I want to get a job. And then, if I may, I want to be an American citizen."

Her husband, Kurt W. Knauff, a former American soldier, could not meet her because he is in Hanau, Germany, as a U. S. Army civilian employe.

Writes Book

Mrs. Knauff carried a book she wrote while on Ellis Island describing her experiences. The tentative title, she said, is "It's All Up to Washington"—for it was in Washington where her main story unfolded.

The narrative had its start Aug. 14, 1948, when she arrived here as a new bride to take up residence for U. S. citizenship.

She was taken to Ellis Island in New York harbor and not told why admission was denied. Aliens whose entry status is questionable are detained on the Island.

Not until March, 1950, did the Board of Immigration Appeals give her a hearing. Two months later she was ordered deported as a "security risk."

An appeal delayed action on the order, and Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) successfully put a bill through the House of Representatives granting her entry. But the Senate did not act.

Twice she failed in pleas to the U. S. Supreme Court.

2 GI's Killed, 16 Injured In Bus Mishap

FRANKLIN, Ind., Nov. 3—(AP)—Two 28th Division soldiers were killed and 16 others injured, several critically, when an Army bus returning them to Camp Atterbury from a "farewell party" crashed into a tree early today.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The public information office of the 28th Division disclosed, however, that all the victims were from Company A, 110th Infantry Regiment.

The soldiers attended a party last night given by the company for the men, who are scheduled to leave early this month for assignment overseas with General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact army.

on the U. N. plan, but it could mean one of three things:

1. Set up a separate demilitarized (neutral) zone around Kaesong under joint control.

2. Enlarge the already proposed U. N. buffer zone to include Kaesong.

3. Pull the proposed U. N. buffer zone back so that it runs through Kaesong.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols said the suggestion was merely "an oral statement of principle" by Brig. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, head of the U. N. armistice subcommittee meeting with its Communist counterpart.

The United Nations offer came in the 10th meeting of the subcommittees of the main armistice delegations. The subcommittees will meet again Sunday at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Saturday, EST).

Reds Gain No Ground In 8 Attacks

U. S EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 3 —(AP)—Communist forces hurled eight separate attacks against United Nations lines on the Korean western and central sectors today but gained no ground.

In the air, Russian-made MIGs were sighted but made no effort to break up a United Nations raid on Red rail lines in northwest Korea in sharp contrast to Friday's nine separate air fights.

A United Nations advance position on the western front just west of Yonchon repulsed three company-size enemy attacks during the night. Then the U. N. forces were forced to pull back when the Reds attacked in battalion strength in three company-size waves. U. N. forces however, reoccupied the positions unopposed at dawn, the Eighth Army said.

The Communists hammered at United Nations positions southeast of Kumsong in three attacks but were unable to dent the U. N. defenses. The Reds for days have been striving to regain hilly terrain in this central sector U. N. forces captured about a week ago.

Police stopped the car on Forest Lawn Blvd, with three youths in it. Two of them ran and a third, age 17 years, was apprehended. Police are continuing the investigation. The 17-year-old boy was cited to appear in juvenile court next week.

Royal Couple Earn Salary, Truman Feels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—(AP)—Ever wonder what Princess Elizabeth and her husband do to earn 50,000 pounds ($140,000) which the British taxpayers provide for their support each year?

Well, in the opinion of President Truman and a number of other Washington officials they do a great deal toward preventing World War III. And if that is so the sum spent annually to keep them in the style to which they are accustomed may turn out to be a bargain.

Mr. Truman spoke his kind words just before the future queen and her duke took off, into a cold, drizzling sky, yesterday for a rest in Canada after their strenuous, 45-hour capital visit.

Elizabeth and Philip start back to England Nov. 12.

Mr. Truman told the pale, obviously tired princess that she and the Duke of Edinburgh "Completely captured" the hearts of the thousands of Americans they met here, and thus strengthened the bonds between this country and its chief partner in the North Atlantic Alliance.

Tax Probers Not Through With Caudle

Assistant Attorney General Faces More Questioning

WASHINGTON, Nov 3—(AP)—House investigators of scandals in the federal tax gathering service aren't through questioning Theron Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney general in charge of tax prosecution.

Also, they want a look at his income tax returns.

Just what they expect to learn, or may have learned, has not seeped out of the series of closed-door sessions the investigating ways and means subcommittee has been having with Caudle.

After a three-hour meeting late yesterday, Chairman King (D-Calif) told reporters:

"The Caudle matter is not closed. He will be brought back for further questioning."

Has No Comment

Caudle told reporters: "I answered all the committee's questions, and I have no comment."

The committee's request for a look at Caudle's income tax returns came earlier in the day.

Caudle's name was brought before the committee this week when he confirmed reports that he made a trip to Italy last summer as guest of two wine merchants checking on a back account they had there.

Caudle said he went along as a friend and advisor of the two merchants.

Attorney General McGrath has said he knew about the trip, that he thought Caudle did nothing "improper," but he probably would have advised against it had he known more about it.

Calls for Ouster

Rep. Curtis (R-Mo) called yesterday for the ouster of both Caudle and McGrath. Curtis said in a statement that McGrath should be fired for condoning the trip.

Caudle's name also has come up, along with that of Jess Larson, head of the government's general services administration, in connection with some oil lease speculation. Both men have denied any wrong-doing. Larson said he had done "nothing illegal" in investing in oil, and had lost money anyway.

Caudle said he disposed of his holdings when he learned his name was being used to promote the oil venture.

The Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce met Thursday night at the YMCA for a regular business meeting.

A discussion was held on the "get out the vote" campaign and the "Voice of Democracy" contest being staged by the local Jaycees.

The committee in charge of the vote drive reported it had completed its work of painting election reminders at crosswalks on downtown street intersections and placing tags and posters on poles throughout the city.

Monday night, the night before election, the group will travel the streets in the city with a sound truck to remind voters to go to the polls the following day. Charles Turner is chairman of the committee.

The county winner will receive a prize from the Jaycees and a recording of the winning speech will be sent to the state finals. The winner there will travel to Washington, D. C, for completion in the nationals for a $500 college scholarship, sponsored by the National Association of Broadcasters and the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Next Meeting

The next meeting of the local group will be held Nov. 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the YMCA. C. G. Wheeldon, Scout executive for the Harding Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be guest speaker at the dinner meeting. He will explain the work of Boy Scouts and tell how the Jaycees might help in the local program.

Two Accused Of Kidnaping Liquor Agents

TOLEDO, Nov. 3 — (AP) — Ohio's investigation of gambling in the Toledo area has resulted in a grand jury indictment charging two men with kidnaping two state liquor agents.

The jury, after five hours of secret testimony yesterday, named Lewis L. (Paddock) Walker, 41, and Joseph Rhea (Joe Yap) Yoppolo, 33, as kidnapers. If convicted on such charge, they could be sent to the penitentiary for from five to 30 years

Donald Van Horn of Cleveland and John R. Hall of Portsmouth, working under state liquor enforcement chief Anthony A. Rutkowski, claim Walker and Yoppolo grabbed them as they were about to enter the Hollywood or New Dixie Club, in an attempt to stall a four-month investigation of gambling here.

Then, they say, the pair forced them to accompany them on a round of night clubbing, all the while pumping them as to their identity. At one point, they said, they were photographed so that their pictures could be posted in casinos as warning to the doormen that they were liquor agents

Only about 50 cases of quintuplets have been recorded.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company has ordered a nation-wide ban on use of its wires for sending money orders relating to bets.

The company action, announced yesterday, followed conviction Thursday of the firm and its manager at Bridgeton, N. J., on misdemeanor charges The state contended the Western Union office there handled $300,000 a year in horse race bets.

A seven-man, five-woman jury returned a verdict of guilty against the company and the manager, Charles H. Frake, 40, for "accepting money orders addressed to alleged gamblers."

The ban on "wager messages," the company said, was issued to protect its employes from possible criminal prosecution. It will not affect sending of other money orders

Don Cray, 57, of near Marion, was found lying unconscious along U.S. Route 4, two miles south of Marion at 7 p.m. yesterday, with bruises and abrasions about his head and body.

State Highway Patrolmen said he had apparently been walking north along the road. They were unable to determine whether he was struck by an auto or fell down. He was taken to the Marion City Hospital where he was treated and released.

He was taken to the hospital in a Boyd ambulance.

Patrolmen reported two other accidents.

Attends All Games

Mrs. Guthery said this morning she has been in the Harding stands for every game this year. She explained she has become such a great fan primarily because two grandsons, Jim and Lowell Arnold, are members of the team. She is very proud of both the boys, Jim plays as tackle on the team and Lowell is a center. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Arnold of Bradford St.

Jim Arnold last night had the honor of crowning Miss Simmons as Queen. He also made the presentation of a bouquet of flowers to her.

Speaking of her graduating class, Mrs. Guthery said there were about 32 who received diplomas that year.

The oldest graduate was located in the audience in a program conducted during the halftime, by means of the public address system.

In Queen's Court

Members of Queen Suzie Simmons' court were Miss Marjory Dearth, Miss Beverly Hurley, Miss Betty Plantz and Miss Barbara Orr. Their escorts were Nelson Luke, Tom Tatham, Eddie Porter and Joe Thomas, all members of the senior class.

For the crowning ceremony, the Harding Band formed an outline of a large heart in the center of the field. The ceremony took place in the center of the heart and consisted of the crowning of the queen with a coronet of yellow mums and the presentation to the Queen of an arm bouquet of yellow mums. A short presentation speech was given by Jim Arnold, after which Miss Simmons gave a response. The miniature majorette and drum major of the Harding band, Peggy Walker and Mike Fellabaum, carried the crown of flowers and bouquet to the center of the field.

Sweetheart Song Heard

Immediately following the crowning, Miss Birdie Borland of the class of 1952 sang the "Sweetheart Song of Harding High," words of which were written by Miss Mary Lou Swigart of the class of 1948 to the tune, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

As the queen and her court entered the stadium grounds in convertibles, the band played a special fanfare

To open the evening's activities, the band marched across the field in formation of the word "Hi," and then played the National Anthem for the flag raising ceremony.

The Harding Band opened its halftime ceremony with a fanfare, then spelled "Howdy," which they changed to the word "Grads." A community sing followed, led by Birdie Borland over the public address system with the fans joining in to sing "You Tell Me Your Dreams" and then the "Sweetheart Song of Harding High."

Special Salute Number

In salute to Marion Education Week, the band formed the outline of a school bell, and then in honor of the churches of Marion which this week received national honors in the Religion In American Life project the band formed a lighted cross. The band concluded its program by forming the school letter and playing the school fight song and alma mater.

Following the game, a Coronation Dance was held in the Club Co-Ed rooms at the YMCA.

Plans for the Homecoming event were in charge of members of the Harding Student Council.

An Indian campground, believed to be from five to seven thousand years old, has been discovered on the Columbia river, two miles upriver from McNary, Ore.

tions. I'm not ashamed to go on the street anytime or talk to anyone. We're selling service and must satisfy the people we're dealing with.

Moulton said, "we might sometime like to refer some people to you for advice on how to run a telephone company."

Edward Knaub, chief PUC accountant, testified the company's present rate of return was 2.65 per cent and that proposed rates would raise that to 3.85 per cent on the same rate base as that figured by company engineers.

New Rates

Under the proposed rates, the cost of private residential telephones in Kenton would go from $3 to $4.50. Rural subscribers, seeking city service, would pay the Kenton rates plus an added charge of $3 yearly for every quarter-mile of line outside the city limits.

The company serves 2,943 subscribers in Hardin, Marion and Wyandot Counties.

Lose Round In Phone Rates Bout

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3—(AP)—Six Ohio cities seeking lower telephone rates lost a round yesterday afternoon when the state utilities commission decided against rehearing the Ohio Bell Telephone Company rate case.

The company has been collecting higher rates for more than 2½ years.

The six cities have fought rate increase requests before the commission and the state supreme court. They contend they are too high, based on the company's valuation.

The cities are Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Akron, Canton, and Dayton—most of the largest ones in the state.

A commission spokesman said yesterday's action ends the case as far as the commission is concerned. But Secretary Paul Deaton said the cities could possibly appeal to the court again.

The supreme court previously told the commission it must reduce the company's property valuations that are used for ratemaking purposes. The commission did this by eliminating Ohio Bell's interstate property and also new or additional property bought with excess depreciation reserves. The reduction amounted to $17,078,675.

The company still has another case before the commission. Last June it asked another increase designed to bring in an additional $22,000,000 annually.

The company would charge the average home telephone user two to three cents more daily, boost business telephone rates by two to six cents a day, and charge 10 cents instead of five for local calls from coin-operated telephones.

The commission has had no hearings on the latest request Yesterday's decision does no concern this case.

Ships Officers Strike Averted

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—A strike threat by East and Gulf Coast AFL ships offers was gone today, but the paralyzing wildcat walkouts of longshoremen appeared no nearer solution.

The 20-day stevedore work stoppage has immobilized more than 100 ships in New York and Boston harbors.

A grave, new maritime tieup that would have hit every port between Maine and Texas was averted last night after the officers put off their midnight strike deadline until the separate stevedore dispute is settled.

Charles F. May, president of the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots Union, said negotiations would continue in the officers' contract dispute with shipping operators. May said he did not want to give any support to the insurgent AFL dock workers.

The 12,000 officers are seeking increased pension and welfare benefits. Wages are not in dispute. Federal mediators are conducing peace talks.

To Decide If T-H Law Applies To Baseball Clubs

CLEVELAND, Nov. 3—(AP)—Does the Taft-Hartley Law apply to employes of big league baseball clubs?

The general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board has decided that it does. Acting on this, he charged the Cleveland Indians and the AFL-Treasurers and Ticket Sellers Union, local 736, yesterday with an unfair labor practice.

This was the first time, in the 16-year history of the board, that a labor complaint has been filed against a baseball club.

The charge is that the Indians fired a woman ticket seller in 1949—when Bill Veeck was the owner—at the union's request. A trial examiner must hear the case Nov. 26, and make the final decision as to whether it is a proper matter for the NLRB

If he does, said John A. Hull Jr., regional NLRB director, all baseball employes—from Ted Williams down to the lowest paid usher — would be given Taft-Hartley protection for the first time.

Old Furniture Made Here Displayed at Store

By ANGELYN PALERMO

Probably the oldest pieces of furniture ever commercially manufactured in Marion are now on display in the window of the H. Schaffner Co. on South Main St.

Among the antique pieces are a dresser, washstand, and chair which were purchased in 1866 by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Klingel and are now possessed by Mrs. H. O. Rueger of 275 Elm St.

Mrs. Rueger was awarded a first prize of $50 for this furniture which she entered in an old furniture contest sponsored by the Schaffner Co. during October. The prize was awarded for the oldest piece of furniture manufactured by Henry Schaffner, founder of the company. The contest was held in connection with the company's 85th anniversary.

Included in the display is an old rose black walnut occasional chair which was purchased by George Carhart, grandfather of Mrs. D R. Harrold of 110 Baker St.

Popular pieces of the day and age entered by Miss Gladys Edelman of 341 Powhattan St. are a full-length mirror, a horse hair chair and a ladies chair made with low arms to allow room for hoops. They were purchased by her grandparents in 1871.

THE BEST EXAMPLE of contemporary pieces of the period are a dresser, washstand and bed possessed by Miss Laura John Clark of 220 Clover Ave., purchased by her father in 1870. The tops of the dresser and washstand are marble.

An account book began in 1852 which contains names and accounts of most of Marion's pioneer citizens of the time is also shown in the display. This book holds the records of Samuel Salter, then a manufacturer and dealer of furniture and first employer of Henry Schaffner, founder of the H. Schaffner Co.

Entered in the book is a purchase of Eber Baker, founder of Marion. He bought six cane-seat chairs for $14, a cane seat and back rocker for $6 and an office chair for $3.

In those days barter was as important as buying articles with cash. For example, six bushels of apples were worth $1.25 in trade for merchandise. One bushel of potatoes was worth 50 cents, and one bushel of wheat was traded for a rocking chair, as shown in the ledger.

SEVENTY-FIVE FEET of cherry lumber was the payment for one arm chair and eight side chairs, costing $4. Five pounds of coal were worth 60 cents in trade, and 43 bushels of corn, $14. Part payment for a table costing $8.50 in 1854 was 57 pounds of beef valued at $1.99 and 15 heads of cabbage worth 68 cents.

In 1855, six pounds of butter netted 75 cents and 49 pounds of flour, $4.86. Four pounds of fish were worth 25 cents in trade and a gallon of apple butter, 37 cents.

Three bedsteads were purchased for $10.50. A chair was repaired for 18 cents. A coffin including the box was available for $4 to $8 during the cholera epidemic in 1854.

The largest account recorded in the ledger amounted to about $50. The account book holds records of sales from 1852 to 1861.

Some species of the "sea urchins," or starfish, which live off rocky coasts, have poison glands attached.

Arts Projects Sponsored by Guild

This is the second in a series of articles describing civic projects sponsored by the Marion County Junior Service Guild. Money to finance the projects is raised through the 'Junior Service Guild Follies of 1951,' which will be presented at the Palace Theater Nov. 15 and 16.

Three of the civic projects supported by the Junior Service Guild are sponsored by the Community Arts Committee, of which Mrs. Edwin Probst is chairman.

For the past year, two guild members have gone to the Marion County Children's Home every other Friday night. They have told stories and played records with an illustrated story album for the children to look at. The program was varied this summer with movies and fingerpainting. About 25 children were in attendance each time.

Stories, records, and crafts will be continued this year. Mrs. Myron E. Ferry Jr. is chairman of this project for the coming year.

Another project connected with the Children's Home and the newest one to be undertaken by the guild will be the transformation of the auditorium at the Home into an activities room.

THIS ROOM HAS served as an assembly room and chapel in the past, but now the children are brought into Marion to attend Sunday School services in churches of their choice, so that a chapel at the home is no longer necessary.

Plans are to remove the fixed seats and prepare the room for multiple uses. There will be a library corner, a place where children can receive their families when they call, tables suitable for study, playing games, or art craft, and furniture adaptable for different occasions.

The room will still be suitable for religious services, recitals, and plays. This work will be carried on by the Community Arts Committee, with Mrs. Probst as chairman, and the Children's Home Committee, of which Mrs. Herbert Petrich is chairman.

THE CHILDREN'S Theater Committee, another phase of Community Arts, sponsors plays for young people. These plays are presented as a community service and the price of admission is set to cover expenses.

Free admissions to the series are given to the Children's Home, crippled children's class, sight saving class, and welfare families. A total of 459 free tickets were given out last year.

The following plays were presented: "The Indian Captive" produced by the Children's World Theater of New York; "The Wizard of Oz," presented by students of Bowling Green University; and "The Glowing Bird" by the Tatterman Marionettes of Oxford, O.

Three plays are scheduled for this season and will be announced in the near future. Mrs. John Turner is chairman of the Children's Teacher Committee.

Sgt. Lewis Resumes Studies at ONU

Sgt. Martin V. Lewis Jr., who was recently discharged from the Marine Corps, has returned to Ohio Northern University to continue his studies in physical education.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin V. Lewis of 565 Park St., Lewis was discharged under the Marine Corps program for releasing its reservists with one year's active service.

In Korea, he served with the First Marine Division, after leaving for overseas duty in October, 1950. During World War II, Sgt. Lewis served with the Fourth Marine Division and spent 23 months in the Pacific area.

The Ohio Marine is a 1941 graduate of Harding High School and attended the university before being called to active duty. He was a football star in high school and college. He is making his home in Ada with his wife, the former Miss Norma Jeanne Eddy of Marion.

Will "Give the Kids a Break"

Vote for School Levy Is Vote for Children

This is one of a series of articles explaining the need for passage at the Nov. 6 general election of the four-mill tax levy for city school operating expenses. The articles were prepared by a Citizens Committee formed to promote passage of the levy.

IT HAS been said that we spend our money for what we value. America has valued its system of free public education. The education of our people has made our republic possible. Citizens of Marion have always been willing to support their public schools. The school door has never been closed for long, because our future lies in an enlightened citizenry.

The four-mill school levy will slightly increase our taxes. Public education, like everything else, is affected by higher prices. Just as we pay more for food and clothing than we did five years ago, so must we pay more for our schools if we wish to continue to provide education for our youth.

The four-mill levy will require each taxpayer to increase his support of schools $4 on each half-year. If your property is on the tax books for $3,500, you would pay $7 additional tax each $1,000 of property on the tax books. Let's take two examples: If you have a house that would sell for $10,000 and it is on the tax books for $3,500, you would pay $7 additional tax each $1,000 of property on the tax would sell for $6,000 and is on the tax books for $2,000, your additional tax would be $4 each half-year. For the average taxpayer it will likely cost a pack of cigarets a week, or the price of a haircut each month. There are few among us who would not pay this price to help 6,000 Marion children.

Someone has said that a man never stands so straight as when he stoops to help a child. Think of the finest boy or girl you know when you step into the voting booth next Tuesday to mark your ballot. You will come away proud that you helped "give the kids a break" when you marked your X for the school levy.

Facts About the Sewer Bond Issue!

We are of the opinion that the above bond issue is not fully understood by the voting public. Therefore we want to point out a few facts regarding this situation that we believe the voters should know about.

Fact No. 1

Something must be done about our sewer situation whether or not the bond issue passes. Therefore it seems to be the general consensus of opinion that in the event that this bond issue fails our City Council will by emergency, legislation enact a sewer rental ordinance and issue the required amount of bonds necessary to complete the sewer and disposal improvements. Said bonds then to be amortized from sewer rental proceeds. It's going to cost either way we go. Now let's look at the situation

ceeds. It's going to cost either way we go. Now let's look at the situation

First the picture if we pass the bond issue.

1. A definite amount will be determined as to how much will be spent doing the job. The amount of the Bonds.

2. No additional city office machinery will be needed to do the job and no additional personnel will be needed to administer collections, expenditures, billings, etc.

3. Everyone knows in advance how much it is going to cost them, and the exact basis on which it is to be paid. Nothing will be left for future determination. On this basis we are not buying a "pig in the poke."

On the Council emergency basis the job would surely cost us considerable more. In the first place, additional office procedures and personnel would be required to handle the clerical work. Many have estimated this to cost $5,000 to $20,000 per year additional.

It has been stated by members of Council that the sewer rental charge would be based on water consumption—If that is true Council would need to depend on water consumption figures provided by the Water Company. While undoubtedly the Water Company would cooperate by providing the figures how would the sewer usage tax be computed for industrial enterprises who have their own independent water supply? That too could be done but certainly at considerable additional expense. We believe that this kind of a situation would not be conducive to promoting new industry for Marion, and we are sure that you will agree that industry plays a very important part in our community.

No one wants to buy a "pig in the poke", lets go for the deal we know the answers to before we buy it. Let us, as voters, advise Council how we want our sewer problems solved.

In consideration of the above facts, we recommend that you support the

SEWER BONDS

In 1950 we circulated a petition in the City of Marion against Mortgage Revenue Bonds to remodel our sewer disposal system. This petition won out in the fall election.

Again this year we have a general obligation bond issue up for the same purpose.

The State Sanitation Committee has said this is a must, therefore, we are asking you the voters, to vote for this issue because

(1) General obligation bonds is the cheapest way for everyone concerned.

(2) They mature in 20 years and are deleted from your tax duplicate.

(3) Under the present setup there will be no additional help to hire, which is a $150,000 savings over Mortgage Revenue Bonds, which can be set aside for upkeep.

Mortgage Revenue Bonds once in effect may never be retired, as there is always expenses, and the idea for said bonds was, for that reason, chosen.
If this issue is defeated, City Council will pass an Emergency Measure and will bring Mortgage Revenue Bonds as a way of financing. This, we are highly opposed to because.

(1) Mortgage Revenue Bonds will be paid off at 25% of your water bill. If you are a renter that means $12 to $15 a year you will have to pay.

(2) Again there is extra help.

(3) The present owners, the taxpayers, will lose their control as to use and upkeep.

(4) In the event of default the Bonding Co. would be sole owners and could charge any fee they see fit.

(5) And finally, they may never expire even though the bonds are paid off, as there is always repair and expenses.

Now you, the voter, think, THEN THINK AGAIN!!

VOTE YES!!

Special Issues Explained To Kiwanis Club

Talks Given On School, Recreation Levies, Sewage Bonds

Facts regarding three special issues, the 4-mill school operating levy, the Marion recreation levy and the sewer bond issue, which will appear on the ballot at the election next Tuesday were presented to Marion Kiwanians in the program at their weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

Discussing the three issues were Lester L. Dickey, city school superintendent, Robert T. Mason, chairman of the city recreation commission, and Newton Cunningham, chairman of the sewer committee of City Council.

Tells Need for School Levy

Mr. Dickey, in explaining the need for the four-mill tax levy for operating exposes of the city schools, gave a number of reasons why approval of the levy is requested. He told Kiwanians there is an expected increase in pupils for the next several years, thus necessitating the employment of more teachers, he explained the average teachers' income last year was much under the state average, and added that the board of education's budget for maintenance is exceptionally low since the board spends more of its dollar on salaries than any of the city school systems in Ohio.

Briefing the members on the three-fourths mill levy for recreation purposes, Mr. Mason explained the levy will raise $24,000 a year during its five-year duration, enabling the commission to employ a full-time recreation director and improve the city's recreation facilities.

Explains Bond Issue

Mr. Cunningham explained the $600,000 bond issue for reconstruction and expansion of the local sewage disposal plant and the three-fourth mill levy to provide operating expenses at the new plant.

E. Paul Bachman was program chairman for the day.

L. Otis Porter, president of the club, gave a report on the Kiwanis state convention held recently. Plans were announced for a Ladies Night party to be held Nov 15, at the hotel.

Guests of the club were Spencer Gains of Cincinnati, a visiting Kiwanian, and Fred Wilson of Atlanta, Ga.

★Of little Carol Sue White, who died ten years ago, Nov. 4, 1941.
We had a little treasure once,
She was our joy and pride,
We loved her Oh, perhaps too much,

God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.
Dear little hands we miss them so,
All through the day wherever we go.
All through the night how lonely it seems
For no little hands to wake me out of my dreams.
Daytime or nighttime where ever we go,
Dear Carol Sue we miss you so.
'Tis hard to break the tender cord, cord,
Where love has bound the heart,
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words,
We must forever part.
Dear little darling, we must leave you,
In the peaceful grave's embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished,
Till we see thy heavenly face.

Inquiry Class Meeting Set

"God's work of creation and the fall of the human race as a consequence of original sin," will be the subject of discussion at the inquiry class to be held Monday evening at 8 p.m. in Moira Hall.

The class, explaining and defending the truths of religion, will be conducted in dialogue form by Rev. Father Thomas Lowery and Rev. Father Urban Wiggins. The two priests will explain the significance of the account of creation and man's revolt against God, as related in the Book of Genesis, the first book of Sacred Scripture. The true meaning of original sin, as committed by Adam and Eve, and the evil consequences which befell the human race as a result, will be described.

This historical background of the creation of the world, and the fall of mankind by original sin, will be emphasized to ensure a proper understanding of man's need of a Redeemer Who was both human and divine. The priests will explain why it was necessary for Jesus Christ, as true God and true man, to represent the human race in performing the great act of redemption and thereby repairing the damage caused by original sin.

The series of classes will continue throughout the fall and winter every Monday evening at the same time, and are open to the public.

How To Make A Million Dollars

—By Norman Vincent Peale—

THIS column will not tell you how to make a million dollars. But I want to tell about a man whose ambition was to make his million and what happened to him. His story and my comments on it may give you some ideas worth more than a million. That would be a pretty good return on the short time it takes to read these paragraphs, wouldn't it?

This particular man came to me at the Marble Collegiate Church five or six years ago. He was one of the most defeated, miserable, negative individuals I have ever met. Yet he told me that he came to see me because he had read one of my books and from it had got the idea that it could help him to achieve his life's ambition.

Dr. Peale

"And what might that be?" I asked him.

"I want to make a million dollars," he said.

"What good would that do you? The government would probably take most of it anyways."

"I want to make a million dollars," he repeated stubbornly. "I'm 48 now, but I still am going to make a million dollars. I've read your book and with the ideas in that book, I'm going to make my million."

I DIDN'T LIKE the way he said that. There was a peculiar look on his face. It was almost as if a gray, filmy veil were hanging over it, hiding his personality behind a heavy depression. His attitude seemed sordid and unworthy.

"You don't really want to make a million dollars," I told him. "You just set that up as a goal because there is within you some great capacity that wants to be realized, that desperately needs release. It isn't a million you want. What you want is to live creatively."

"And how can I live creatively?" he asked me.

I told him that the secret was to surrender his life absolutely and wholeheartedly to God, being willing for God to use him in any way He believed to be best. That would bring to pass the purpose for which he was created. I told him to live according to that purpose.

"That is what you really want," I said. "Once you do that you will begin to lead a wonderful life. You'll be able to recognize your real ambitions and make them come true, one after the other."

OF COURSE, there was more to his problem than that (he had many attitudes to correct) and it took a rather long time in this case. But, eventually, the veil that had seemed to me to be hanging over him fell away, and I discovered a set of the brightest eyes I had ever seen hiding behind it. Color came into the man's cheeks and vivacity into his manner. He had seen the light and was rapidly changing his outlook.

I haven't heard a word from him about his million dollars since that day. But, strangely, enough, he is on his way to acquiring it. He got hold of a unique idea. It was a good one and it gave him a start in business.

Today, he has a small and growing plant. Just recently he rented the rest of the floor in his building and added a number of employes. I have been in that plant and somehow it reminded me of being in church, for a spirit of optimism and love and hope and faith literally fills the place.

THAT WAS WHAT happened when one man put himself and his problems into God's hands. He became what the Bible calls "a new creature." The old hate-patterns, the old failure-patterns, the old evil-patterns fell away and everything about him became fresh and new.

I have seen this method revamp the lives of so many that I am enthusiastic about it. It will work for anybody who will work it. I don't know how you can make a million dollars, but I do know what happens when you sincerely put your problems and yourself in God's hands. You receive the help you need to cast out defeat, discouragement, failure and unhappiness. You become mentally and physically alert, hopeful, optimistic, useful and creative. Really try this plan and I'll venture you will write me some day and say, "Thanks a million."

Musical Notes

by Gene Shellhorn

Old Benjamin Franklin is well known as a printer, publisher, statesman and writer. But few of us know that he was also an accomplished musician. He was so accomplished, in fact, that he invented a completely new instrument called the Armonica (not to be confused with harmonia).

This instrument consisted of a set of glass discs strung on an iron spindle. The largest, lowered toned discs were on the left. The spindle moved by a treadle, spun the lower discs in a water trough and tones were produced by moistened fingers.

It wasn't the most practical thing in the world. But Beethoven and Mozart composed special music for it. And in its small way it contributed toward the advancement of acoustics.

So . . . if you have an invention up your sleeve . . . you may be able to produce that lost chord and make some money. If not . . . the new, modern instruments are the best the world has ever known. And you can invent yourself a lot of enjoyment by learning to play one.

Every child should have the opportunity of learning to play an instrument. If you think you can't afford it . . . come in to see us. We have a top selection of band instruments . . . priced to fit your budget. And we give the best instruction. You pay on convenient terms at SHELLHORN'S, 184 S. Harding Rallies To Beat Col. South, 7-6, In Heavy Snow

Russell Scores in Final Two Minutes for Victory

By A. L. McCLAIN
Marion Star Sports Editor

In some of the worst weather conditions a Harding team ever played, the "comeback kids" did it again at the stadium last night, scoring seven points in the last two minutes of play to defeat Columbus South, 7-6.

An expected capacity crowd of homecoming fans was slimmed to only 600 because of failing snow and biting winds. The crowning of the queen and homecoming ceremonies went on, however, despite adverse weather conditions.

Departed

Many of the fans had departed when Jimmy Russell skirted his own right end for the game-tying TD and then added the extra point with a bursting drive over his own right tackle that carried five yards deep into the end zone.

The South team came back gamely in the dying minutes carrying all the way to the Prexy nine where four desperation passes fell incomplete.

It was a typical Harding victory. The Prexies gave up a score early in the opening quarter when the visitors capitalized on a fumble and penalty on the Harding 12. Berwin Drake scored from the two. The try for extra point was blocked.

With Tom McClain's hard-running and Russell's elusive runs, the Presidents marched to the South 15 in the second quarter before a fumble stalled the attack. Shortly before the end of the half, Harding had five tries from the Columbus one-yard line, but were stopped. Once McClain stretched across the goal line, but one official ruled he was stopped.

Fumble Hurts

Shortly before the end of the third period McClain powered to the two, but a fumble set the ball back to the seven and the visitors took over on the 10.

Harding's strong defensive line held again midway in the fourth quarter and South kicked to the Prexy 47. The locals then drove 53 yards in five minutes. Line plays carried to the 25 where a pass from McClain to Eddie Morse was ruled complete because of interference. Line smashes by Russell, Brady, and McClain put the ball on the two where Russell made his fine run for the score.

In the lockerroom after the game Harding players said the snow "didn't bother them too much." Some wore "longies" under their uniforms.

John Hickman, stadium keeper said it was the worst weather conditions he has ever witnessed on the stadium field.

* * *

Both bands performed at halftime. The girl majorettes with their bare legs, brought shivers from the fans.

Dave Kuenzli hit paydirt for the second TD and then threw a pass to Wolfe for the point.

A crowd of 800 watched the contest played on a snow-covered field. The win gave the Rams a 4-3 record in league play. They meet their traditional rivals, the Carey Blue Devils, next week.

Fremont Ross Winner, 26-7

Special to The Star

ELYRIA, Nov. 3 — A snow-swept gridiron proved no handicap to John (Big Thunder) Lewis and Jerome (Little Thunder) Surratt as Ross High School moved another notch toward an undefeated football season here last night.

Aided by spectacular defensive play by Capt. Bob Biggs, 223-pounder who plays guard on offense and tackle on defense, Ross zoomed to a 26-7 victory in the final game of the long series between the Giants and Pioneers. Elyria has been forced to drop Ross next season to add a new Lake Erie League opponent, Euclid, to its schedule.

Both Lewis and Surratt turned in runs of 68 yards, Lewis going for a touchdown and Surratt being stopped on the two-yard line. Surratt gained 162 yards net, Lewis 141. The Giants moved 54 yards for their first touchdown, Lewis scoring from the seven yard line. After Elyria forged ahead 7-6 on Bill Hopkins two-yard plunge and Paul Curcillo's placement, Ross scored in the last 11 seconds of the half as Lewis drove over from five yards out.

In the fourth quarter, Surratt made his long run to the two and scored three plays later, Lewis ended the scoring with his 68-yard contribution.

Richwood In 12-0 Victory

RICHWOOD, Nov. 3—Richwood High School squeezed through to a 12-0 win over Mifflin last night at Mifflin. The Tigers scored in the first quarter when Dick Griffith raced 50 yards and came back in the fourth to score on a 30-yard gallop by John Blue. Griffith went 60 yards for a score but the run was nullified by a penalty.

Most of the game was played between the two 30-yard markers with snow and wet ground slowing up the offense.

Galion Wins Homecoming

Tigers Roll, 42-14, Despite Heavy Snow

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 3—In freezing weather and the first snowstorm of the season, Galion High School Tigers won the last game of the Northern Ohio League, here, last night, over Willard, 42-14.

The weather procided a "cool" reception for the homecoming festivities which had been planned. The queen, June Naufzinger, and her court composed of Marilyn King, Martha Pace, Patricia Scott, Carole Powers, Betty Columbus and Jayne Schreck, were recognized, and after the game reigned during a reception and dance at Senior High School gymnasium.

Late Spurt

The Crimson Flashes went scoreless until the last quarter when they made 14 points. Galion scored in all four quarters. Early in the game, Hal Beach plunged from the two-yard line for a touchdown, while Paul Schuttera kicked the extra point. In the second quarter, Beach scored again on a 32-yard run, and Schuttera's kick was good for extra point. Dick Cope scored a touchdown from the three-yard line, and Schuttera's kick was good again. Dave Monroe took the ball over one-foot to score, and Schuttera kicked another extra point.

From Four

In the third quarter, Sonny Mansperger scored from the four-yard line, and Schuttera kicked the extra point.

Schuttera took things over in the fourth quarter when he made the touchdown from the one-yard line and then kicked the extra point. Willard's scoring was made when Don Cox made the touchdown, and Paul Hill ran for the extra point. Bob Arrington ran from the 13-yard line for Willard's other TD, and Hill plunged for the extra point. Galion goes to Ashland next Friday.

Durando Wins Shot at Cuban After Young

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—Next stop for Ernie Durando, Bayonne, N. J., bomber, may be a November 16 Madison Square Garden date with Kid Gavilan, the welter champ, in a non-title 10-rounder.

Al Weill, International Boxing Club matchmaker, was in touch last night with Gavilan at Detroit after Durando, 158½, upset Paddy Young, 159½, in a 10-round split decision at St. Nicholas arena.

Durando dropped Young for a nine - count early in the first round of a furious bout, although Paddy scored later with hooks to the body. Durando had more left at the finish to reverse a 1950 loss to Young. Young was battered around both eyes and cut on the nose.

Basketball Fixer Awaits Hearing

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—Sol Levy, former basketball referee, will receive a hearing on Nov. 13 on charges he fixed a professional basketball game.

Levy, discharged as a National Basketball Association official last February, is held on $15,000 bail. He is specifically charged with fixing the Indianapolis-at-Boston NBA game, won by Boston, 78-75, last Nov. 12.

District Attorney Frank Hogan said Levy received $3,000 for rigging the Boston at Washington game, Nov. 11, and Nov. 12 game and the New York at Syracuse game on Nov. 19. Hogan also said that Levy attempted but failed to fix three other games.

Levy, 41, denied the charges when booked at the Elizabeth St. police station yesterday.

"I didn't do anything," he said.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor said that Levy called unnecessary fouls on star players of teams whose scores he was trying to fix. In many instances the players were banished after getting six personal fouls called on them.

Vernon's Winning Complex Eyed by Prexy Coaches

Lawler's Team Posts Fine 6-0 Record

It's a good bet Harding coaches are keeping their eyes on Vernon Junior High School for future athletic material.

Coach Jim Lawler's juniors won the Tri-City League football championship this season with a 6-0 record after copping the basketbal title last year.

One of Finest

Vernon's record rates as one of the finest ever produced by a Marion school. Lawler's youngsters scored 74 points while holding the opposition to only seven. Included was a forfiture by Mt. Gilead.

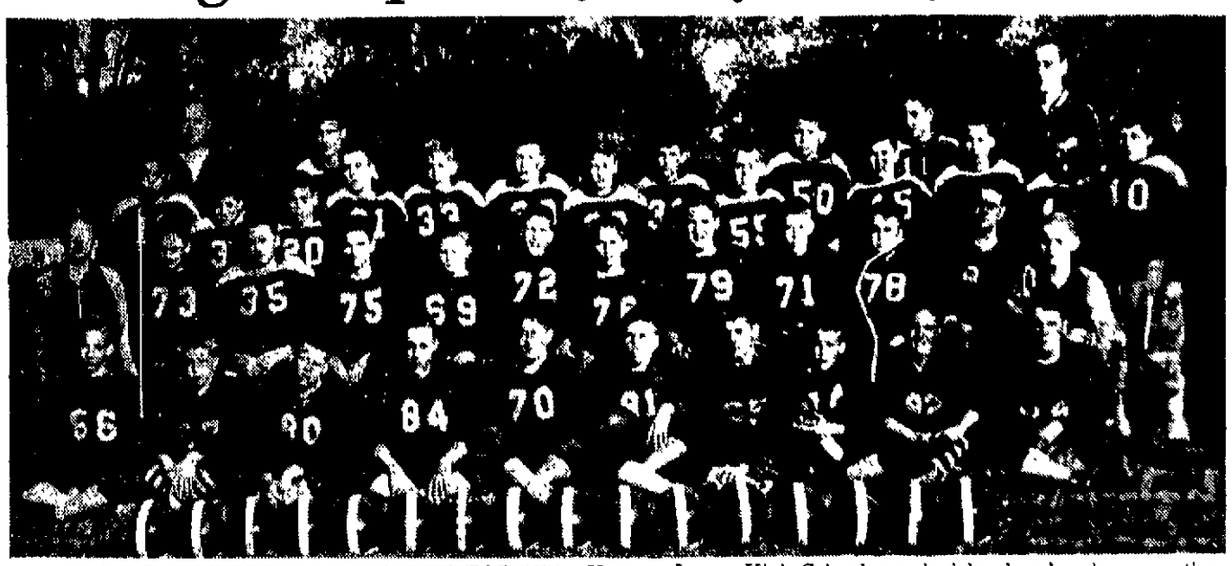
Lawler gives much of the credit for the team's outstanding defensive record to Don Kay, line coach, who starred for three years at Xavier after playing his freshman year at Ohio State. Only team to score against Vernon's strong line was Galion, on a 30-yard pass.

Given Chance

The Vernon coach believes several of his players rate a chance to move up to Harding's varsity next year. Halfback Alvin Thomas was the team's leading scorer.

In winning all their games, Vernon employed both the T-formation and single-wing.

All the first team players will be lost through graduation except Mervyn Matteson, Keith Thackery, and Pete Schnaufer.



TRI-CITY LEAGUE FOOTBALL CHAMPS FOR 1951. Vernon Junior High School, coached by Jim Lawler, won the loop crown this season with a 6-0 record. Included was a forfeit by Mt. Gilead. Elm Valley Ends Cardington's Long Winning Streak, 34-0

By JOHN SHORT

Underdog Elm Valley scored a resounding 34-0 win over Cardington last night. The win gave Coach Emil Ihnat's crew undisputed possession of the Middle Buckeye Conference title and snapped a Pirate win streak at 16 straight games.

With a snow-covered field slowing both offenses in the first period, the Elm Valley crew, sparked by Quarterback Dick Howard and a big hard-charging line, began to roll in the second stanza.

First Score

Howard set up the first score when he returned a Don Kelley punt 25 yards to the Cardington 35. Five plays later, he cut through tackle and went 17 yards into the end zone, but an offside nullified the score. After Howard and Chuck Martin had carried to the three, Howard cut off tackle for the score. The try for the point by rushing was stopped.

After the Cardington attack had been stopped, Howard took Kelley's punt at 39 and Howard went around end on a 67-yard journey to paydirt. A Lust to McGrath pass netted the point.

Midway in the final frame, Howard intercepted a Kelly pass at his own 40 and traveled all the way for his third TD. Before the quarter ended Martin hit for a TD and Howard added two more.

A blanket of snow covered the field and held both teams in check. Elm Valley's superior ground game and line play proved the big difference. Kelley, Cardington's passer, attempted several times to open up with an aerial attack but was never able to gain sufficient control of the slippery ball and receivers had trouble grabbing the passes.

Despite the cold weather, jubilant Elm Valley fans rushed onto the muddy field after the game to tear down the goal posts. One Ashley resident suffered a fractured nose when struck by a falling cross piece.

The Pirates began the game with mittens in an effort to keep their hands warm. Some discarded the mitts when they became soaked. A few linemen wore them throughout the game.

The usually potent Cardington air attack was never able to click properly. Two Kelley - to - Hawthorne passes gained 60 and 40 yards respectively but the Elm Valley line refused to give way before the ground game.

At one time in the last period, Cardington gained a first down on the one-yard marker and once on the 10. The Ashley line held both times.

O'Neill Admits Use Of Novocaine By Newhouser, Greenberg

CLEVELAND, Nov. 3—(AP)—It's true, says Steve O'Neill, that Hal Newhouser and Hank Greenberg received novocaine injections when they played for the Detroit World Series in the 1945 World Series.

But that's not such a terrible thing, said Steve, who managed Detroit then. Novocaine is a pain killer, not a dope, he said, and football players use it all the time.

The statement, made by O'Neill at his home here, was prompted by a story about novocaine and the 1945 Tigers in yesterday's Boston Post.

O'Neill said that in 1945 Newhouser was suffering pain under his shoulder blade and Greenberg's hand was giving him trouble.

Well, suppose it does cost 50 cents more, what of it?

Yes, we are all conscious of the higher food cost, but listen Mrs. Wife. When John Husband suggested dining here Saturday evening you can order the simplest dinner, tastefully served and when you add up the total cost it won't be 50 cents more than the same dinner served at home. Or you can let John splurge at least once a week. No finer selection of food anywhere in Ohio than right here.

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

Clark Gable Stars In Film at Palace

"Across the Wide Missouri," exciting technicolor outdoor drama actually filmed in the wilderness of the rugged rockies in Colorado, will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace Theater.

Clark Gable is starred along with Ricardo Montalban, John Hodiak and the new discovery, Maria Elena Marques. Playing featured roles are Adolphe Menjou, J. Carrol Naish and Jack Holt.

The film tells the valiant legend of America's 19th century fur trappers, who blazed the wilderness trails to the West to open a new nation. Clark Gable is seen in the role of Flint Mitchell, a trapper who pits his wits and strength against the cunning of the Blackfeet Indian warriors, who oppose the mountain men.

As Flint, Gable recruits a brigade of adventuresome men to form a trapping expedition into the Blackfeet country, buys and marries the spirited Indian maiden, Kamiah, in the hope that she will guarantee his peace with the Indians, and effects a conciliation with Bear Ghost, chief of the tribe, only to have all his efforts undermined when a member of his party stupidly kills Bear Ghost to avenge the death of his brother.

Thursday only, on the stage of the theater, the play, "Darkness At Noon," will be presented.

Showing Friday and Saturday will be a suspense thriller, "The Strange Door," adapted from a Robert Louis Stevenson story. Starring in the film are Charles Laughton, Boris Karloff, Sally Forrest and Richard Stapley.

With a setting of 16th Century France, the film tells a tale of intrigue behind the iron bound doors of a chateau owned by the infamous Sire de Maletroit.

CLARK GABLE IS AMBUSHED by two deadly Blackfeet Indian warriors in the above scene, one of the suspenseful sequences of "Across the Wide Missouri," technicolor outdoor drama which will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace Theater.

Technicolor Musical To Open at Ohio

A new technicolor musical, "Painting the Clouds with Sunshine," co-starring Dennis Morgan, Virginia Mayo and Gene Nelson, opens in a midnight show tonight at the New Ohio Theater and will play through Tuesday. In a principal supporting role is S. Z. Sakall.

In the story told in the film, the three stars go to the picturesque Nevada town of Las Vegas to perform in a fashionable entertainment palace, run by S. Z. Sakall. It is there that Virginia Mayo, as a mercenary blonde looking for a millionaire, finds one but is surprised by the fact that she really loves him.

Among hit tunes heard in the film are "The Mambo Man," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "One Alone," "Jalousie," "With a Song in My Heart" and "We're in the Money."

Opening Wednesday will be the science-fiction thriller, "The Day The Earth Stood Still," which tells the strange story of visitors from another planet who threaten Earth with total destruction. Featured are Michael Rennie, Patricia Neal and Hugh Marlowe.

The production tells the story of the arrival in Washington, D. C., of a strange space ship bearing two visitors from another planet, "Klaatu," the super-human gifted with special powers, and his giant robot, "Gort." Together, they threaten the earth.

"The Day The Earth Stood Still" assumes that a civilization 5,000 years more advanced than ours has solved the problem of interplanetary space travel, the neutralization of electricity by remote control, the disintegration of objects by directed rays, and the ability of robots to perform human tasks. Patricia Neal is seen in the role of a war widow who understands the space visitor's motives and proceeds to assist him in his mission.

Starting at midnight next Saturday will be "A Streetcar Named Desire" starring Vivien Leigh and Marlon Brando.

Two Westerns Billed At Marion Theater

Two western productions, "Badmen of Nevada" and "Badmen of Arizona," will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The People Against O'Hara," co-starring Spencer Tracy, Pat O'Brien, Diana Lynn and John Hodiak, and "No Questions Asked" with Barry Sullivan, Arlene Dahl, George Murphy and Jean Hagen.

The former tells the story of a criminal lawyer who is convinced that his client is innocent of a murder charge but finds his case going against him and, in a weak moment, attempts to bribe a vital witness. It continues by telling how he vindicates himself and tracks down the real murderer at the cost of his own life. The latter tells the dramatic story of a young metropolitan lawyer who tried to get rich quick the easy way by becoming the go-between for insurance companies and big-time crooks.

"Fingerprints Don't Lie" starring Richard Travis and Sheila Ryan will be the main attraction of the double feature playing Thursday through Saturday. A mystery drama, it tells an intriguing story based on the value of fingerprints as evidence of guilt.

Completing the billing will be "Man From Sonora" starring Johnny Mack Brown. It is the story of a retired ranger who takes to his guns again when killers move in on the ranch of a friend.

Showing next Sunday and Monday will be "Rich, Young and Pretty" and "Winchester 73."

GENE NELSON AND VIRGINIA MAYO are shown above in a scene from the "Blues" sequence featured in the technicolor film, "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine," which opens in a midnight show tonight at the New Ohio Theater. It will play through Tuesday.

"On The Riviera" Billed at State

A technicolor film, "On The Riviera," starring Danny Kaye and Gene Tierney, and "Hell Town" with John Wayne, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Summer Stock," a technicolor musical production starring Judy Garland and Gene Kelly, and "I Killed Geronimo" with James Ellison and Monte Blue.

Esther Williams and Van Johnson are the stars of the film, "Duchess of Idaho," which will be the main attraction of a double feature playing Thursday through Saturday. It is filmed in technicolor. Completing the billing will be "The Gunfighter" starring Gregory Peck and Helen Westcott.

To Form Theater Group at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION—Nearly 40 people interested in organization of a little theater group in Galion met Thursday at the home of Mrs. C. J. Griebling. The group met to hold an open discussion about the formation of a community theater.

Many newcomers to Galion, as well as a number of persons who at one time belonged to the former Drama Workshop Players, were present for the meeting.

It was decided to hold an organizational meeting Wednesday, Nov. 14. Mrs. Don Battershell will act as chairman for the organizational meeting.

Mrs Griebling is to look for a possible place for a workshop for the little theater group. She said that it was indicated that plans will go forward to produce a play early in the spring. Meanwhile, a study group will become active and will begin work on one or two one-act plays for presentation.

Gallon has had no little theater group since the Drama Workshop Players. That society was organized in 1926 and continued producing plays through 1938. All persons of the community who are interested in any phase of active work in play production will be welcome at the organizational meeting.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Liver Disease May Be Caused by Virus Infection

During the early months of this year, some ten states reported more or less serious outbreaks of the condition known as infectious jaundice. This marks our growing awareness of a disease which in the past has often gone undiagnosed, and whose mode of transmission is still a matter for conjecture.

Believed to be due to a virus infection of the bile ducts and canals of the liver, this disorder usually causes a collection of bile pigments in the blood with resulting jaundice, as this yellow coloring matter is carried to the skin and membranes of the mouth and eyes. The duodenum, or first part of the intestine in the area where the bile ducts empty into the bowel, is also involved in this infectious process.

The patient with infectious jaundice usually has a feeling of bloating, loss of appetite, nausea, and vomiting Diarrhea is a fairly frequent complaint Bile pigments also appear in the urine which, along with its dark color takes on a foamy appearance

In almost all cases, fever, headache, and backache are the first signs that the disease is present Sometimes sore throat is seen in outbreaks of this disorder

Many experts believe that outbreaks of the disease are due to the eating or drinking of food or water contaminated by the virus. More recently, however, the theory has been advanced that the offending agent enters the body through the respiratory tract and is passed from person to person in much the same way as other nose and throat infections

It is perhaps significant that most of this year's cases involved school children. This, together with the fact that a certain number of cases show little or no jaundice and are so mild as to make diagnosis extremely difficult, may offer a new clue as to its method of spread.

Another form of this disease, known as serum homologous jaundice, is also fairly frequent It usually occurs from one to six months after some form of injection has been given with a contaminated syringe or needle, or from the giving of plasma or blood containing the virus The onset is not as abrupt as it is in infectious jaundice. Irradiation of such substances as are used in injections offer a high degree of protection from this form of the disease

In all cases, treatment consists in limiting the amount of body activity, since body activity is capable of prolonging or reactivating the liver infection All persons suffering from this condition should be placed at complete bed rest, regardless of how mild the symptoms may seem.

A diet high in calories, proteins, starches and sugars should be used Milk and meat, which supply protein, should be given in sufficient quantities Between-meal feedings should be employed.

The use of vitamins and liver extract may sometimes be of help. Purified globulin may be effective in preventing and lessening the effects of the liver infection if given early enough.

Some one is waiting for this invitation — Take some one to church this week...you'll both be richer for it!

News of the Churches

Churches Plan Special RIAL Services Sunday

First Sunday of Religion in American Life Month is tomorrow, with many Marion churches and congregations taking part in the special effort to stress the importance of higher value in individual and community living.

With church, civic, service club, labor, farm, and women's groups participating, RIAL Month got under way in Marion Thursday, Nov. 1. Much preliminary work was done in preparation for the observance, with distribution of posters and stickers carrying the theme, "Take Someone to Church Sunday, You'll Both Be Richer for It," in churches, places of business, shops, and wherever people gather. Groups of women took the responsibility of making telephone calls throughout the city and community urging listeners to give church attendance and support special attention this month. Co-chairmen of the local movement are Dr. G. G. Nuetzel, a layman, and Dr. J. B. Holloway, clergyman. RIAL is an interfaith movement.

Special Sermons

Pastors have prepared special sermons, and some are tieing in evangelistic efforts with the idea.

Marion will be the object of nation-wide radio attention tomorrow night when four major air networks will mention the honor received here for last year's work in RIAL. As a part of the general program on the hookups, prominent national and military leaders will be heard. At 11:15 p.m., the quarter-hour broadcast will begin. The networks carrying the program will be ABC, CBS, MBS and NBC. A local broadcast over station WMRN at 6:30 will be a transcription of the Tuesday night award presentation meeting here, and an afternoon broadcast over WRFD, Worthington, at 3:45 will present transcription of highlights of the Marion program.

Church leaders will take this

How Firm a Foundation

The favorite hymn of Andrew Jackson

IT TOOK A HARD-BOILED fighter to bring the Creek Nation to its knees. And Andrew Jackson was that. After conquering the Indians in the South in 1815, impressed recruits to add to his Tennesseans and with an army of only 6,000, slashed into British Gen. Pakenham's 12,000 veterans. Burning with vengeance for ill treatment in his youth while a prisoner during the Revolution, Jackson cut down 2,000 English troops with the amazing loss of only seven killed and six wounded. But, hard-boiled as "Old Hickory" was, he held in tender respect the religious devotion of his wife, whose favorite hymn was "How Firm a Foundation."

Nobody knows who wrote the old hymn. It was first published in 1787, a year before Jackson settled in Nashville as a young lawyer and two years before George Washington was made president. As the hymn was printed under the initial, "K," its authorship has been attributed to both George Keith and Thomas Kirkham. It is doubtful that either wrote it. More likely the author was one Robert Keene, an assistant to London's Baptist Minister Dr. John Rippon, in whose book the hymn first appeared under the title, "Exceeding Great and Precious Promises."

On the grounds of the Hermitage, just off the Lebanon Highway 12 miles out of Nashville, lie the remains of President Andrew Jackson. On the same grounds the general once built a little church and hired a preacher so his beloved Rachael could worship and sing her hymns and he promised her many times that he would join the church. But Rachael Jackson died before "Old Hickory" got around to fulfilling his promise. Of her he said, "Heaven will not be heaven for me unless I find my wife there."

In 1845 a group of friends called at the Hermitage. The old warrior was dying. He had forgiven his enemies—"collectively" at least. And he had joined the church . . . the Presbyterian Church in Nashville. All his bitterness was gone and he wanted only to join his wife. He asked the group to gather around his bed and sing the favorite hymn of his wife . . . and his.

"How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord,
Is laid for your faith in His excellent Word!
What more can He say than to you He hath said,
You who unto Jesus for refuge have fled?

"In every condition, in sickness, in health,
In poverty's vale, or abounding in wealth;
At home and abroad, on land, on the sea,
As your days may demand, shall your strength ever be.

"E'en down to old age, all My people shall prove
My sovereign, eternal, unchangeable love;
And when hoary hairs shall their temples adorn,
Like lambs they shall still in My bosom be borne.

"The soul that on Jesus hath leaned for repose,
I will not, I will not desert to its foes;
That soul, though all hell should endeavor to shake,
I'll never, no, never, no, never forsake!"

Go To Church

A Sermonette

By REV. EVAN R. OWENS

Pastor of Prospect St. Methodist Church

"As His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day." —Luke 4:16.

JESUS did not have to make up His mind whether or not He was going to church. The weather did not effect His decision. He always went.

He had been taken as a baby by His parents. They had gone with Him as a child and a youth. He came to love the synagogue. His heart was in the worship service. He gave something through His attendance and He came away richer; anxious for the next Sabbath day to arrive that He might go once again.

THERE ARE MANY loyal church folks yet today who attend the church of their choice regularly. Why do they go? Of course there are those who go to be seen in church by others for selfish reasons. There are those who like to show their fine clothes, but there are countless others who go for more legitimate reasons. The beauty of the church calls some, while the music brings others. Some come for the fellowship with like seekers, while others find it easier to pray in the sanctuary. Still others like to hear the reading of the Word of God, and they come for strength. "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." It is all of this and more that causes folks to come to church that they might better understand themselves.

WE CANNOT GO to church and live on a low spiritual level. A certain woman who lived in a basement apartment moved to a sunny attic. She was asked, "Why?", by a friend of hers. She replied, "You can't go to our church and hear our preacher and live in a cellar." The Hebrews went to the house of God with praise and thanksgiving.

This habit of church going is not selfish, for it causes us to help others. We see our neighbor in a different light if we go to church. Christianity is not individualistic, it is community.

THE CHURCH GIVES fellowship with the children of God. We recognize our oneness with Him, and that we are one in His sight. Regardless of our age, our class, our economic status, or our race we only have value in the sight of God as we dedicate our lives to His purposes, that His will and not our will might be done upon the earth.

If you will attend the church of your choice you will be richer for you will be a part of a world-wide communion. You will realize the mercy of God as your sins are forgiven, and you start a new week renewed and with the determination that you are not going to make those same mistakes for God is ever present to strengthen you in times of weakness.

Go to church! Let the world know you believe in God! Take someone with you; you'll both be richer for it.

SCHEDULED MEETINGS of Wesley Methodist Church for next week include Men's Brotherhood Monday night, Circle One Tuesday afternoon entertained by Mrs. Emma Lehman as hostess with members bringing gifts for a Christmas box and WSCS Thursday afternoon preceded by executive board meeting at 1:30. For Youth Fellowship meetings tomorrow, leaders will be Sally Faust, Intermediate MYF at 5 p.m., and Mary Ann Makeever, Senior MYF at 6.

Evangelistic Services Planned

REV. HARRY G. DEEDS

A series of evangelistic services will open at the Greenwood EUB Church, located at Greenwood and E. Mark Sts., Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., with Rev. Harry G. Deeds of Findlay as evangelist. He is a former pastor of the church.

The services will be held each night through Nov. 18. Special music will be by various local persons and groups. Rev. Deeds served the Greenwood Church during the period of 1933 to 1940. The meetings are open to the public, Rev. R. L. Sutherland, pastor, announced.

THE BIBLE IS A CATHOLIC BOOK

People differ radically in what they think about the Bible.

Some seem to think it was handed down from Heaven written in English and bound in morocco. Many accept it as the inspired Word of God without knowing why they are justified in doing so. And others say that the Bible is full of contradictions and must be taken "with a grain of salt."

A proper understanding of the Scriptures can exert a tremendous influence for good in your personal life. You should, therefore, know where we get the Bible . . . what it means . . . why you can believe its every word.

Nowhere in the Bible text will you find a list of the 73 inspired books of which it is composed. This list was given to the world by the Catholic Church almost three full centuries after the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Between the time of the Crucifixion and the time that the Scriptures were gathered into a single Book, millions had received and accepted the teachings of Christ . . . and had died without ever seeing the complete Bible.

Established by Christ Himself and rapidly spread among the nations of the world, the Catholic Church was carrying on Christ's work for the salvation of men some 60 years before the Apostle John wrote his book of the New Testament.

For more than a thousand years afterward, the Scriptures were preserved and circulated by Catholic monks and scholars who laboriously copied the sacred text by hand. And the Bible authorized by the Catholic Church was the first book produced by Gutenberg upon the invention of printing.

Yes, the Bible is truly a Catholic book. They were members of the Catholic Church who, under God's inspiration, wrote the New Testament in its entirety.

It was the Catholic Church which treasured it and gave it to the world in its original and unaltered form. It is the infallible authority of the Catholic Church that always has been the only sure guarantee of its inspiration.

There are obscure and difficult passages in the Bible, some of which may seem confusing. But with the complete revealed truth of God, delivered to her from the beginning, the Catholic Church has faithfully unfolded the meaning of the written Word of God to past generations of mankind—and does so today.

Those who are familiar with the Bible, as well as those who are reading it for the first time, will find many important questions concerning it clearly answered in a free booklet which we shall send you on request. Ask for Pamphlet No. 3-N.

"Jesus came into the world to save the world and to save it by saving the individual sinner first of all. He came to seek and to save that which was lost. Jesus was not merely a perfect example, or a matchless teacher, or a great reformer, or a generous hearted humanitarian. No, He was infinitely more than that. He was a Saviour.

We need to understand too that He was and is now the ONLY SAVIOUR from sin. "There is none other name under Heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12)

The above quotation is from Rev. H. L. Zachman's book "Messages on Christian Beliefs."

Plan to hear the great truths of the faith presented in simple language and clear illustrations so that even a child can understand. Brother Zachman will be preaching every night to November 9th at Calvary E.U.B. Church, East Church and High Sts.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood grinned lazily at his wife, and I knew that his position—he had slumped low in his chair as if he meant to remain there for the rest of the day—already had given her the answer to her question.

"What's the use of having an opinion when the Lady Fair makes up her mind on any course?" he queried. "I'm just going to bow my head to the yoke, and I'd advise you to follow my illustrious example."

"There isn't anything else for me to do," Lillian said resignedly, Then she transferred her grin to me.

"'Needs must'—finish it yourself, Simon Legree," she told me, and her big husband straightened himself in his chair with theatrical truculence.

"Don't you dare call my old gal friend names, even by inference!" he said, and I "shushed" him promptly.

"The door is opening," I said in muted tones, and he pretended to use a button hook on his lips as my father and Bess Conway came toward us.

Then he rose to greet them, and saw that they were seated, placing my father's chair in a position facing the rest of us.

"Thank you, Harry," my father said. "I want to be able to see all of your faces, for I have a most important surprise announcement to make."

"Oh no!" I mentally protested—I knew better than to utter the objection aloud. But it seemed impossible to believe that he meant to tell Mildred his solving of her problem in front of all the rest of us. However, I have learned through many years of association with him that he never does things without some cogent reason, and I found myself keyed up to keep expectancy as he began speaking.

"I have reason to suspect," he began, "that there is a subversive group in the city which houses the college attended by you, Mildred."

I saw her flush with embarrassment as he addressed her so pointedly, but she had no opportunity for a reply, as he went swiftly on.

"The group is small," he said, "but especially dangerous, because it members are of old American stock, highly educated and possessed of especially keen mentality."

He paused, as if he had difficulty in marshalling his words—an old trick of his when he wishes to build up suspense. When he spoke again he seemed to stress every word.

"We suspect," he said, "that they have been able to place two of their group on the college faceable to get any confirmation on that point, nor any hint of the ulty, although we have not been identity of the suspected persons. But we know the general pattern as we have found it in other colleges. The teachers will have unusually keen minds, and most attractive personalities. They will be much admired by their students, their classes will be exceedingly popular and their opinions taken as gospel truth. And, because of that, they will be able to instill their traitorous venom without suspicion into the minds of their impressionable pupils."

He paused again, and his eyes traveled over our faces, finally focusing on that of Mildred Grey.

"We need," he said, "to place in the school one of our operatives, who can ferret out the truth about this. But the operative should be a student, and any new one would not have the opportunities for finding out things which a senior class woman would have. Therefore, Mildred, I am asking you to take over the job."

Man, Wife Fed Up With Upset World

SYDNEY,—(UP)—An American yachtsman and his wife left Sydney in search of a "Shangri La" in the pacific.

The couple, Byron Tanner and his wife Dorothy, were en route to Tahiti in their 36-foot ketch "Bachelor's wife."

"The world's in such a mess that we want to get away from it for a while," Tanner said as he left.

The couple, formerly of Honolulu, intend staying in Tahiti for several months before commencing a world cruise in the ketch early next year.

During the course of their cruise they hope to find their Shangri-La on an island somewhere in the Pacific.

Tanner said the voyage to Tahiti would probably take about twelve weeks.

"The trip will be lonely, but my wife and I like solitude," he said. "At sea Dorothy does all the cooking and occasionally steers while I navigate. We intend looking for a little island on which we can settle after we have finished traveling. Then we can live in peace."

Tanner and his wife left Honolulu late last year for Sydney to take part in the premier event of Australian sailing, the Sydney-Hobart race.

Neither of the couple had any previous sailing experience and used the ketch's motor during the trip. The Sydney Harbor pilot ship Captain Cook, had to tow them into Sydney after the engine of the Bachelor's Wife broke down two miles from Sydney Heads.

Since then, Mr. and Mrs Tanner had been "beachcombing" around Sydney, living on the ketch in the harbor.

The couple were given a rousing farewell when they left Sydney grass skirts, and Hawaiian guitarists from Sydney's Polynesian community played and sang the "Maori's Farewell" as the ketch left her moorings.

Friends showered the water around the ketch with flower petals and Hawaiian leis.

Hundreds of small craft sailed around the ketch as she passed through Sydney Heads.

Rev. Kline New Forest Lawn Church Pastor

Rev. Floyd E. Kline of Napoleon will be the new pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church. He will fill the pulpit of the church tomorrow morning.

He will become pastor officially at formal installation service Nov. 18, and will move to Marion with his family by that date.

His message in the morning will will be on stewardship.

The church has been without a regular pastor since resignation in the spring of Rev. David E. Schnable who has been living in Columbus during the last few months.

Announcement of the call of Rev. Kline to the Forest Lawn pastorate was made by James O'Dowd, a church official.

DISCUSSION TOPICS for Prospect Street Methodist groups will be, for Youth Fellowship tomorrow night, "Preparation for Marriage," and for mid-week service Wednesday night, "Things To Come in the Sunday School Lessons for November." The Wesleyan Service Guild will meet Tuesday night.

Services

special opportunity to welcome new worshipers to their services and endeavor to meet the challenge expressed by Charles P. Taft Tuesday night. He made the point it is "What do the newcomers get at church?" and the "interpretation of faith" that counts. Lay activities that contribute to the validity of religious institutions, and basic values of the American foundations carried out in weekday living were emphasized. It has been stressed that RIAL is primarily a lay movement. Mr. Taft, prominent church and civic leader, is a member of the national RIAL committee. The lay participation in the local campaign has been commended highly.

Evangelistic Efforts

Individual churches in some instances have given evangelistic efforts during November a tie-in with the RIAL movement.

A week of visitation evangelism in the Central Christian congregation will be held next week, Monday through Thursday. Men of the church will call on friends at their homes. Rev. Kermit Traylor of the Fourth Ave. Christian Church in Columbus will be guest leader for the effort, Rev. Ashley Booth, pastor, announced.

Calvary EUB Church is holding nightly evangelistic services with a guest preacher. An evangelistic effort of Oakland EUB Church will open later this month.

At many churches, careful tabulation of attendance on the Sundays in November will be taken to determine increase in number of worshipers as an appraisal of the RIAL campaign.

Special Music

Special music at Emanuel Lutheran Church tomorrow morning will be by both the Intermediate and Senior Choirs, under the direction of Homer Huffman.

At the sixth session of the class in Christian fundamentals at 7:30 p.m., Monday, the pastor will lecture on "Christ, the All-Sufficient Savior." This series of Monday evening lectures is given "to explain the Christian revelation to those who are interested in hearing what God has made known for the eternal salvation of men."

"Pocket Veto" Given Aid To Education Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—(AP)—President Truman has applied a "pocket veto" to a federal aid to education bill which he says would require racial segregation in some schools now operated on "an integrated basis."

In announcing yesterday that he would not sign the bill, Mr. Truman hit at a provision he interpreted as requiring schools located on federal property in 17 states to conform to state laws calling for segregation of white and Negro students.

The President's refusal to sign kills the bill passed by Congress just before it adjourned last month.

No Surrender!

IF IT WERE to be announced in the newspapers and over the radio that next Tuesday's election had been called off by official authority, there would be an uprising at every crossroads.

The sovereign people would take quick advantage of their jealously-guarded right to own firearms and organize a militia to oust the usurpers of public authority.

The officials who had called off the election would have to barricade themselves in a strong building and fight for their lives. They would be lucky if they command any help, because they would be public enemies.

The American people would die on the barricades before they would surrender their right to choose their own public officials.

Yet in election after election the American people are not even interested enough to show healthy curiosity in their own public affairs. They are in direct danger of losing their franchise by default.

The time is here again to vote. It will keep on being here again for centuries to come if the American people keep voting. The only way they could lose their right to vote is by failure to vote.

After the Princess

PRINCESS ELIZABETH has gone—and may she live happily ever after! In all probability, this visit to North America will be both her first and last.

It is too bad that the affairs of state, when they finally overtake her, will leave her no time to journey to distant places and to meet strange people.

It looks more and more as if it might be the lot of the Princess Elizabeth and her husband to rule Britain in the twilight years of the once-great empire on which the sun never set; it is setting now. After the princess there will be other visitors in Washington, the same ones who came before her. They will be officials of His Majesty's government seeking answers to economic riddles which no one knows how to answer.

That has become the one great fact of life in the bloc of nations which has been built about the core of Anglo-Saxon resistance to dictatorship—that no one knows the answer to their common problem. What they all do know is that the answer is not dictatorship. And it is not "dog eat dog."

The British empire is in the twilight years. But it is entirely possible that Anglo-Saxon civilization is on the threshold of an ascendancy without precedent in the history of dominant civilizations.

Foxhole Meditation

WHAT the infantrymen of the U.S. Army are going to think about this thing called tactical atomic warfare remains to be seen.

But a starting point for their thoughts has been furnished by the Pentagon, which has placed troops within blast range of atomic explosions for experimental purposes. An infantryman huddled in a foxhole waiting for an atomic explosion in New Mexico might meditate along this line:

"Here we are again—the unprintable Infantry. We are the unprintable so-and-so's who are always going to be replaced by the latest gadget for organized destruction. But when it's time to try out the gadget, who huddles in a hole in the mud or the dust to dodge the debris? Who is supposed to pop out of the hole and rush forward like an unprintable hero to beat the unprintable tar out of the unprintable survivors and secure the position for the unprintable brass which will be along presently in an unprintable jeep? Who but G.I. Joe! Hello, sucker—the atmotic age must be here at last, with the infantry right behind it, as usual."

Eisenhower's Report

THERE is no emergency, according to the White House, in Gen. Eisenhower's suddenly scheduled visit with President Truman and members of the Truman administration. The general is coming to Washington to give them a first-hand report as supreme allied commander in Europe. There is no reason to believe anything but military matters will be discussed.

When Gen. Eisenhower is questioned about his potential interest in partisan politics, as he is every whipstitch, he is careful to make it clear to his questioners that he has only one thing on his mind at this time—the collective security of the Atlantic Pact countries. His countrymen owe him the courtesy to take him at his word, which so far has been unimpeachable.

There are many political ax-grinders in both parties who would like to make it appear that Gen. Eisenhower is going to turn their grindstones next year. They have become so frantic in some instances that they have assumed the right to speak in his behalf, which may have given Gen. Eisenhower a chuckle but more likely given him a pain in his personal integrity.

Politics Begin Boiling

By David Lawrence

Eisenhower Visit Latest Development

WASHINGTON

STRANGE things are happening in national politics. General Eisenhower is coming back for a conference with President Truman, and the supporters of the general for the Republican presidential nomination hint that it means a conference about a successor to the Allied Supreme Command in January and the way will then be opened for Eisenhower acceptance of political candidacy.

LAWRENCE

It is amazing the amount of comment recorded among Republicans who really ought to know their politics that they actually can nominate General Eisenhower on the Republican ticket.

What's amazing is that the Republican organization men, who will dominate the convention and who were displeased in 1948 because Governor Dewey didn't make a sufficiently vigorous campaign, are now expected to decide that a passive candidacy will be acceptable to a majority of the Republican delegates.

For when Rep. Hugh Scott Jr., of Pennsylvania, former Republican national chairman, said that General Eisenhower is a Republican and is "vigorously anti-New Deal," the question arose as to whether the general would ever really behave that way on the stump. The spectacle of Dwight Eisenhower going up and down the country denouncing the Truman administration and calling on the people to "turn the rascals out"—which is to be the main slogan of the Republican campaign — is not one easy to visualize as ever likely to happen.

SMALL WONDER that Mr. Truman speaks of the general as "a nice man" and small wonder that the Democrats are so eager to say favorable things about the general. They would prefer him, first of all, to endorse the Truman foreign policy and, of course, take it out of the campaign as an issue. They would then like to see him go as lightly as his disciplined submission all his life to his superiors would persuade him to go in discussing as abstractly as possible the record of the Truman administration.

Maybe the Republicans who are insisting that Eisenhower would not make a suitable candidate would prefer to let the Democrats nominate him if Truman doesn't run. The general's position, as expressed by recent visitors, is that he will obey a call of duty from any party but will not aspire to the presidency, permit anyone to speak for him as an authorized sponsor, or lift a finger even indirectly to win the nomination.

On top of the curious developments in the matter of the Eisenhower candidacy, some strange things are happening in the Democratic party's backyard. Senator Byrd of Virginia has let loose a blast against the Truman administration which is the beginning of a revolt that will not go the way the "Dixiecrat" rebellion did four years ago. It will not mean a third ticket. It will mean the placing of Democratic party electors on the ballot in each southern state pledged to vote as they please in the electoral college. This means the electors will be anti-Truman. The so-called "civil rights" issue will be the crucial question.

SENATOR BYRD points out that 39 of the South's electoral votes didn't go to Truman last time and that, if the remainder of the South's 126 electoral votes had gone as did the other 39, Truman couldn't have been elected. He recalled that Truman had a margin of only 37 in the electoral college.

So the strategy of the southerners is clear. They'll make a fight at the national Democratic convention to abolish the two-thirds rule on nominations and, failing in that, they'll seek to abrogate the "unit rule" whereby an entire state delegation's vote is cast as the majority of each delegation decides—something that doesn't happen in Republican conventions.

The Byrd speech is the beginning of a real split in the Democratic party. Whether or not President Truman runs again, the northern Democrats will know they have been in a fight by the time the Democratic national convention has adjourned next summer.

The Republicans are split on foreign policy. The Democrats are split on the so-called "civil rights" issue. It looks like nine months of bitter controversy ahead inside both parties before the nominees are chosen—and maybe, if the South really splits off, a president of the United States will be chosen next time in the House of Representatives in the special manner provided by the Constitution when no candidate receives a majority of the electoral votes.

For the Sake of Argument

By TRUMAN TWILL

HERE'S a Yankee Doodler willing to argue at the drop of an A-bomb — even one of the new family-size bombs available at Las Vegas — that the international balance of power makes stranger bedfellows than politics ever made.

That was quite an arrangement when we patriots found ourselves in bed with the Bolsheviks a few years back. Certainly, it is worth a chuckle that we are now getting ready to jump back into the sack with the little yellow brothers of Japan.

If you want to go back further, it is worth a second thought that the next queen of Britain and her consort are eating off the Sunday dishes in the Blair House, whereas is wasn't too long ago their side was burning down the White House across the street.

Even the Germans, who have slaughtered enough young Americans to qualify as operators of an official anti-Yankee vendetta, are being toadied to again — and for a perfectly sound reason. In the event they might have to be trusted not to shoot their friends in the back, the Germans might come in handy for shooting other people.

It's always the same. Only the bedfellows keep changing. And it is legitimate to wonder who will be next. Sufficient unto the evil are the allies opposed thereto at any given instant.

Here is a guess for parents to paste up in some future citizen's baby book that he and his contempories may be lined up about 2,000 A.D. in another freedom coalition with the Russians—this time against the Japanese and the Chinese. Just as surely as Joe Stalin is a relentless opportunist, the buffer state he transformed into a major power is going to need help some day to protect itself from the Orientals. Russia is in the middle. It lies in both Europe and Asia and eventually will have to line up with one side or the other.

In the showdown, it will line up with the Europeans because there are too many Orientals and they think too much like Russians to be trusted. When this happens, those fellows who have just explained in a well-known magazine how the United States and the Soviet Union are going to knock each other out will be beyond reach, but their heirs in the fine art of homogenized balderdash will be piously explaining how Americans and Russians always did love one another to pieces, except when they were being misled by short-sighted fellows who didn't understand the long-term realities of balance-of-power politics, which is fancy talk for dog eat dog.

Don't throw away any left-over vodka. Put it in the back of the cupboard for the long pull.

Representation at the Vatican

By George E. Sokolsky

NO MATTER whether one favors or opposes American diplomatic representation at the Vatican, it must be obvious that nothing can be gained by indecorous conduct in our relations with the Pope. Nothing can be gained by the United States, nor does it strengthen Christianity in this era of a Marxism onslaught on the religions of God that so important a matter should be used to divert the attention from corruption in the Internal Revenue Offices.

SOKOLSKY

Surely President Truman knew that Congress was adjourning when he sent General Mark Clark's nomination to the Senate; everybody else knew that. Why then throw this bomb at us?

The United States has had relations with the Vatican since 1797 when John B. Sartori, though only a consul, was granted diplomatic courtesies. At that time, the Papal States were an extensive area in Italy, some 16,000 square miles as compared with 109 square miles today. However, it would seem from our best religious history, "Church and State in the United States," by Anson Phelps Stokes, that representation was opposed and faded as an issue until 1847 when President Polk sent a message to Congress on the subject:

"The Secretary of State has submitted an estimate to defray the expense of opening diplomatic relations with the Papal States. The interesting political events now in progress in these states, as well as a just regard to our commercial interests have in my opinion rendered such a measure highly expediente."

THE CONSENSUS at that time was that whereas it would benefit this country to be represented at the Vatican politically, it would not be right to have representation to the Pope as head of a church. The House of Representatives, in which there were only two Roman Catholic members, voted in favor of providing funds 137 to 15. The Senate also passed the measure, and Jacob L. Martin, a convert to Catholicism, was appointed the first charge d'affaires.

William H. Seward, secretary of state, in 1862 wrote to Richard M. Blatchford, U. S. minister to the Papal States:

". . . It was under these circumstances that this government, in 1848, wisely determined that while it maintained representatives in the capitals of every other civilized state, and even at the capitals of many semi-civilized states which reject the whole Christian religion, it was neither wise nor necessary to exclude Rome from the circle of our diplomatic intercourse. Thus far the new relation then established has proved pleasant and beneficial."

A MAJOR FACTOR in the discontinuance of this representation was the unwillingness of the Papal authorities to permit Protestant worship outside the legation grounds. An ambassador or a minister resident in a foreign country is, by the law of nations, permitted to worship in his own private chapel. But this had become difficult in Rome. Rufus L King our minister, wrote to Secretary of State Seward:

". . . It has not unfrequently occurred that the congregation, worshipping under the minister's roof, has reached the number of 250, or 300, and more than once has been much larger than could be accommodated in the apartments provided . . ."

In 1867, Congress refused to appropriate further funds and thus, the mission ceased, not to be revived, until Harry Truman appointed General Mark Clark to it, except that during 1939, President Roosevelt appointed Myron C. Taylor to this post as the "personal representative of the President of the United States of America to His Holiness, Pope Pius XII."

AS THIS POSITION did not exist in law and as Mr. Taylor served without personal compensation, the matter did not come before the Congress. Mr Taylor was not an official of this government. His appointment in this manner was a subterfuge.

The question of such representation is indeed a vexed one. The Vatican is a state with its own flag, courts, postal service, currency, etc The Pope is, in this sense, a temporal ruler. Also, the Vatican does represent the most militant and effective moral force in European affairs. The attempt on the part of the Truman administration to explain the value of sending an ambassador to the Vatican on the grounds of a good listening post is a shameless exposure of religious personnel behind the iron curtain to the charge of espionage. Surely neither Catholic nor Protestant favors that.

The issue now goes into the 1952 campaign where it does not belong. Protestants and Catholics will quarrel over it and forget the corruption of the tax collectors. Mr. Truman has again proved his genius at sly devices.

U.S. Aid for Ohio Veterans

VETERANS receive the bulk of direct federal payments going to individuals in Ohio.

Government figures compiled by Congressional Quarterly show that total grants going direct from Uncle Sam to individuals all over the nation were $3,287,000,000 in 1950—the latest year for which figures are available.

Ohio residents received $127,679,195 and ranked sixth in the nation in total amount received.

Of the money going to Ohio, $112,718,883 went to veterans for G.I. schooling, loans, etc.

Another direct payment program for veterans, restricted to badly disabled ex-servicemen, brought $102,267 into Ohio for specially constructed automobiles. The federal government allows $1,600 for each auto.

More than half of the remainder of the direct payment money went to farmers for conservation and land-use measures. These brought Ohio farmers $7,394,248, according to the figures obtained by Congressional Quarterly.

Small sums also trickled in for medical research and for pay to national guardsmen. Further federal money came into the state for indirect payments for social security, school lunches, etc.

Daily Bible Thought

Vatican Reopening

VATICAN CITY — (AP) — The apartments in the pontifical palace occupied by the late Cardinal Luigi Maglione have been reopened for the first time since his death. Cardinal Maglione, former Vatican secretary of state, died in 1944. Since then, Pope Pius XII has acted as his own secretary of state, with the aid of two church officers. Cardinal Maglione's former apartments will be used to house a Vatican relief mission.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Nize Horsey!"

A horse can't do fancy skating, box, punch, lay an egg, handle a hockey stick or make a political speech. Yet he is packing 'em in at Madison Square Garden. And the National Horse Show is but the climax to 400 horse shows held all over the United States. How come? The horse has been a rare sight on the streets of the country for more than a generation. Show the average American an oat bar and he will think it a "prop" in some quiz program. He will look at a set of harness and assume it is something out of which Harry Houdini used to escape. Nevertheless horse shows go big throughout the country, and the top one is at the Garden, the last place you would ordinarily go if you were looking for a horse.

PHILLIPS

Tens of thousands will pay in to see horses in the flesh and not in cowboy westerns. And what makes it hard to explain is that not one of the animals has ever been mentioned in the Racing Form or Jack's Green Sheet. Thousands will attend without even asking if Shoemaker, Arcaro, Atkinson or Guerin are riding. "What do you hear?" will not be the password. No voice crying "Hold your tickets until the result is confirmed" will ring through the air There will be no loud lamentations "I got switched,' "You touted me off it, Eddie" and "The big bum quit."

This is a little difficult to understand. Very few people in the eight million in New York ever owned a horse, drove a horse, rode a horse or saw one except through binoculars. To hundreds of thousands of natives the only place to see one is at Belmont, Aqueduct, Jamaica or the frotting tracks. A horse on any street in Gotham would be booted for gumming up traffic. If Most citizens saw one in the yard they would suspect Jesse James was staging a raid or the Rodeo had failed to report an escape. Yet for a week or more the horse will be glorified in the very heart of Manhattan Island in a manner enjoyed only by the new Detroit sedan models, heavyweight pugilists, Sonja Henie or Ringling Brothers.

If a horse show can grip New York in 1951, why has the Six-Day Bike Race faded out, why do you have to go to a museum to see a bustle and why don't actors wear side whiskers? Why can't we find a buyer for that old set of harness we have had around ever since we were a kid? Why are all buggy-whip salesmen out of work? It must be love. Yep, traditional, inborn love for a noble animal and a great friend of man. It's good to know there are Americans who still raise horses for other purposes than the two-dollar mutuels and get the same kick out of a buggy ride that grandma did. Personally we are a pushover for horse shows. At them we forget the snarling autoist, the man-eating bus driver, the barking subway guard and the rough-riding taxi man. "Hudson, hitch up the bays! We're taking a long drive of four miles into the country!"

Social Affairs

WHEN Mrs. Lottie Strauss of Orrville reviewed "Whirlwind In Petticoats" for members of the Quest Club and their guests Thursday evening, she took them on an imaginary trip to Mt. Gilead for some of the scenes in the story.

The club's annual social event was held at the Women's Club Home where the program was followed by a social hour. Miss Grace Epler, president, extended a welcome and asked the members to introduce their guests for roll call. For the musical part of the program Mrs. Gerald Jennings played a group of four numbers, "Clair de Lune," "The Girl With the Flaxen Hair," "Sounds and Perfumes Turning in the Evening Air," all by Debussy and "The Valley of Bells," Ravel.

The author of "Whirlwind In Petticoats," Berll Becker, has told the story of Victoria Claflin Woodhull in a fictional story of a real woman; her younger sister Tennessee, and their family. Scenes in the story are laid in Mt. Gilead, St. Louis, New York and other cities in the United States, and in England. The heroine pioneered for woman's rights in the 19th century and at the height of her career succeeded in being nominated for president although her name never appeared on the ballot.

During the social hour refreshments were served from a table lighted with tapers held in crystal candelabra and centered with an amber crystal tray in which were floated three large yellow chrysanthemums, and greenery. Presiding with Miss Epler was Mrs. Mildred Barrows, vice president.

Guests included Mrs. Robert Miller of Cardington, Mrs. Strauss of Orrville, Miss Gladys Ellis of Sycamore, Mrs. N. Sifritt, Mrs. James Parker, Mrs. Kathryn Halsey, Mrs. Paul Knauss, Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Mrs. Alice Gurley, Mrs. Fillmore Young, Misses Helen Warwick, Marguerite Howser, Virginia McClure, Nell Freer, Isabel Freer, Maud Anselment, Mayetta Anselment, Marie Fulton, Marjorie Eymon, Philomen Gregg, Grace Cunningham, Frances Coup, Esther Mautz and Edna S. Dutton.

Miss Mildred Little was program chairman and members of the social committee, Mrs. Ann Sedelmaier, chairman, Miss Helen Atchinson and Miss Lucile Foreman, served.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

SMART women will not invest too much wardrobe money in wide skirts this winter.

The often-voiced rumor about this style capital has it that high-fashion dresses and suits will have reed-slim silhouettes by spring.

Though designers aren't giving away their secrets until the preview shows next January, there's enough gossip to indicate rather definitely that the American woman will receive her second "quick-switch" in a year's span.

Expected to return, with the slim skirt, are larger hats, flare-skirted coats, lower hemlines and a really big revival of interest in the patent leather accessory.

Fashion is like spoiled women—fickle and expensive. But interesting.

They are easily transplanted into the cultivated garden and are increased by seed or division.

Letters From Our Readers

SEWAGE VOTES URGED

Editor of The Star: This letter is addressed to all the voters of Marion. There will be two very important items on the ballot for the voters to pass on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

No. 1: Bond issue of 600 thousand dollars to rebuild the sewer disposal plant.

No. 2: A tax levy to maintain our sewer system. At the last election we had a referendum vote on the sewer tax proposed by City Council and the voters said no sewer tax wanted. Now there is just one thing certain—we will either vote this bond issue in or have a sewer tax—which do you want.

Under the bond issue it would mean 60 cents per thousand dollars valuation. You should know what your property is on the tax duplicate for.

You can figure it out for yourself, and on the sewer tax it will be at least one dollar each month or twelve dollars per year.

How would the sewer tax be collected? By setting up another bureau. Estimated cost to collect the sewer tax 100 thousand dollars. On the other hand the bond issue as far as cost of collection is concerned would not cost the taxpayers one cent, for the simple reason the county treasurer's office is set up and maintained at the cost of taxpayers.

When the sewer disposal plant was built some 25 years ago, who built it? Why every taxpayer in the city of Marion. Our disposal plant is an integral part of Marion same as our schools and should be supported not by just a few but by everyone within the city limits.

In closing let me say we can not sidestep these two items any longer. It is a "MUST"—either the bond issue or the sewer tax.

Let us go to the polls next Tuesday and as good citizens say by our vote how $600,000 shall be spent.

Women GOPs Hear Address

Attorney Gen. C. William O'Neill of Marietta, was a guest speaker at a dinner given by the Marion County Republican Women's Club Thursday night in the Vogue Room at Hotel Marion.

Mrs. Raymond Furniss, president of the club, presided. Talks were given by former Congressman Frederick C. Smith, Kenneth Robinson, county representative to the state legislature, Marion Hinklin, county chairman, and Republican candidates for city offices at the November 6 election.

Mr. O'Neill emphasized three needs of good government in his talk. He stressed individual loyalty, true economy and honesty.

Mr. Hinklin presented the candidates and the speaker was introduced by Representative Robinson.

The invocation was spoken by Rev. Evan R. Owens, pastor of the Prospect Street Methodist Church and dinner music was by Billie Johnston, accordionist. The program opened with the group singing the National Anthem directed by Harold Patrick, vice chairman of the Republican Executive Committee.

Youth Fellowship Films Payl

Movie Produced By Marion Church Group

By ELAINE BALLINGER

Marion has a moving picture industry. Working quietly and without fanfare, a "movie company" of 13 young people has ready for showing a religious sound dramatization, "Faith Heals." It is based on the Old Testament story of the cure of Naaman, the leper.

The "premiere" will be to a limited gathering of parents of the young actors and other members of the First Evangelical and Reformed Junior Youth Fellowship Sunday night at the church. Then for a larger audience, the film will be released at a regional youth rally at the church here the following Sunday night.

Overcoming numerous interesting and sometimes amusing difficulties was an important part of the filming. Shots were made both indoors and out. Production was begun in August.

The Zachman farm east of Marion became the Bible land of the story, and the Hocking river northeast of town was "transformed" into the Jordan. The Bible story is found in II Kings, Chapter 5.

Auto Tracks a Problem

Automobile track ruts an incongruous note in scenes of hundreds of years ago, posed a problem, and had to be "stamped out." It was necessary to await the whims of nature in sun and cloud when pictures were to be made out of doors. Work had to be done mostly on weekends.

A black eye held up production on one occasion. The owner of the "shiner" happens to be a football enthusiast as well as amateur actor!

The idea for the moving picture occurred first to Richard Howard who has a special interest in religious education. A local and state youth leader in both Evangelical and Reformed Church and interdenominational work, he is now a student at Otterbein College at Westerville, majoring in the religious education field.

He and his wife, the former Miss Mary Queen of Marion, were the script writers and directors, and Mrs. Howard took charge of costumes.

Hoffman Takes Pictures

John Hoffman of 358 Mary street, who makes a hobby, among other things, of photography, took the moving pictures. Much interested in the results of this first try at making a movie, he wants to turn his talents to another picture with other young people's groups later on.

The movie hero of "Faith Heals," a "captain of the host of the king of Syria," is played by Robert Stauffer. Women who influence the proud soldier to humble himself to follow the advice of the prophet of Israel that he may be healed of his dread disease, are Katie Kinsler as "Sarah," and Judy Street as "Dema." Don Caprino plays the king, and Kenny Kirkpatrick, the prophet, Elisha. Others in the cast are Joan Neidhart, Bruce Ehlen, Jim Neidhart, Jim Conklin and Tom Lehner.

Sound is Difficulty

Greatest technical difficulty was not in the filming but in the making of the sound track, coordinating words to the scenes after the filming, Mr. Hoffman said. Editing, done by Mr. Howard, was another "big job." Lighting indoors was taken care of by Mr. Hoffman. The inside scenes were played on the stage in the basement auditorium of First Church.

Running for a quarter of an hour, the picture took 200 feet of 8 millimeter film. The shooting was accomplished with little spoilage of film, and total cash money outlay was approximately $25.

Time of the showing Sunday night at the youth meeting will be 6:30. This will be Parents Night. Mr. and Mrs. Howard are former counselors of the Youth Fellowship group. Present counselors are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fogle, Mrs. John Rinnert and Miss Lodemia Weaver. Following the program, refreshments will be served.

Y Men's Club Discusses Tree Sale

A regular monthly business meeting of the Y Men's Club was held Thursday night at the YMCA with Vice President John Holliday presiding in the absence of Jack Bray, club president.

Following the dinner, songs were led by Richard Meister with Richard Myers at the piano. A gift was presented to Jack Boyd, last year's president, in appreciation of his service.

A discussion was held on the club's annual Christmas tree sale to be held in December and members were urged to step up their advance ticket sales. The trees will be sold from the Central Junior High School lot.

Preliminary plans were made for the club's first social event of the season at Holliday Hill near Delaware. The event will be held Nov. 13. Members and their wives will attend.

J. B. Beardon, plant manager of the Green Camp plant of the B. F. Goodrich Co., will be speaker at next week's meeting.

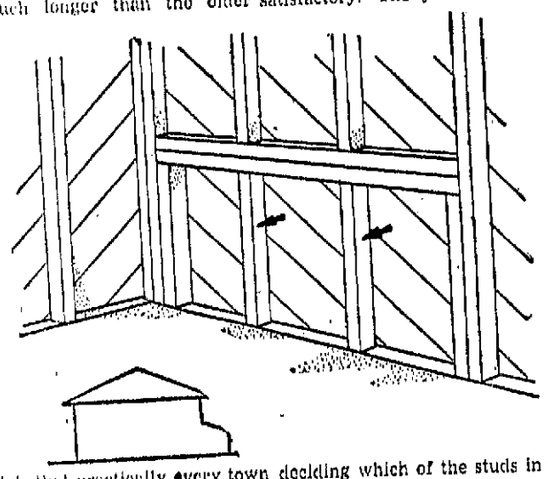
How To Expand Old Garage for New Car

For the last three or four years there has been an increasing demand for more room in the average garage. Most modern cars are so much longer than the older models that practically every town or village has people who bought new cars and then found that they could not get them all the way into the garage. As a rule there is no trouble with the width, it is the length that is lacking.



To increase the length of the garage which was built according to standard methods of construction can be a very expensive job. However, usually the difficulty can be overcome at a fraction of the cost by simply making room for the front end of the car, so that no change need be made in either the front or back wall as a complete unit.

The idea illustrated having been put in practice a thousand times can be recommended completely satisfactory. The job starts with deciding which of the studs in the back wall are to be removed. When this is settled, the studs are cut through at the desired height and pulled out of the wall. The sheathing or exterior finish of shingles or clapboard is not disturbed at this time, and consequently the studs can be removed without danger of the wall sagging. The next step is to install a double header as shown under the ends of the cut studs and supporting it at both ends as shown by uprights. When this is in place, the sheathing and exterior finish can safely be cut away and a low extension of the rear wall built out to receive the front end of the new car. This job will cost about 15 per cent of an alteration involving the extension of a wall and the consequent roof work. It might easily be attempted by any homeowner who is handy with his hammer and saw, and can follow the simple directions.

Thanks to the fact that the rear of the average garage is not in plain view from either the house or the street, there can be no objection to the slight bulge in the rear wall.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Finishing Knotty Pine

Q.: Please give me information on how to finish knotty pine walls so that they keep that natural look.

A.: The popular method of finishing knotty pine walls is to give the wood a couple of soaking coats of a half-and-half mixture of raw linseed oil and turpentine. After an hour of so, all excess oil should be wiped off. The second coat can be put on twenty-four hours later. Another satisfactory finish is a natural penetrating wax preparation. Some prefer the slightly more lustrous finish of white shellac. Two coats are applied and the shellac is thinned half-and-half with denatured alcohol. Try these finishes on some odd end pieces of pine left over from the job. Bear in mind that all wood, regardless of the finish, will mellow and darken slightly with age.

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

SO MANY people build houses from mail-order blueprints that the more they can learn about the functions of a house the happier they are going to be.

With plans available from some of the most successful and practical architects, there is nothing wrong generally in selecting the house you like. But there is plenty wrong with the way some people select it.

Pick a house merely because you think it looks cute and you are headed for a rude awakening. Let one feature—a picture window, a fireplace on the porch, or some other glamorous detail—blind you to inadequacies for everyday living, and you're sure to regret it.

There's no great secret in the fundamentals of house planning. They're largely a matter of common sense.

You can fit a house to a piece of land much more simply than you can fit the land to the house.

And you can fit a house to your family a whole lot easier than you can fit the family to the house.

THE REASON you can often buy good house plans for comparatively small costs is that the architect was paid for his time, talent and work by the first person who built that house. Normally, it was designed for a specific family and for a specific location.

Such a house might be built much more appropriately on one side of a street rather than on the opposite side. The way to determine this is to visualize the directions on your lot and mark them accordingly on the plan.

See if the morning sun will cheer your breakfast, if the bedrooms will be shaded in late afternoons to prevent overheating for the night, if kitchen and laundry will have more or less northerly exposures to keep them cooler, if you will like the view you will get from your living room windows.

If the plan doesn't work out in this test, turn it over and hold it up to the window to see how it looks when reversed. If that's better,' ask the architect if you can get that plan reversed.

Since most houses are planned for level sites, consider the amount of grading necessary on your lot. If a house is designed with the garage in the basement, or can be changed that way, you may be able to fit it to a hillside without trouble.

MOST ESSENTIAL, of course, is how you'll live in the house. This aspect is so important that the new semi-annual issue of Small Homes Guide, just published, devotes its theme to planning your home to fit your family needs.

"The most important factor in considering home plans," says Small Homes Guide, "is the size of your family and whether it's going to increase, decrease or remain the same."

Three ways of meeting the problem of possible changes in living patterns are outlined:

1. Choosing a house that meets present needs, with the idea of selling and moving to another when needs change.

3. Selecting a plan that can be enlarged.

3. Compromising between present and future needs.

"There are various ways of adding more living space," the Guide points out. "Most economical is the story-and-a-half home with unfinished second floor." The addition of roof height adds very little to the cost of a conventional one - story house, while more expensive dormers can be added later.

On the other hand, the Guide's study explains, "the expansible house, planned from the beginning so that one or more rooms can be built on in the future, is more expensive in the long run than building the entire structure at once.

"Actual costs depend on how much construction you have to destroy and how many trades you have to call back the second time round. If your addition requires everything from foundations on up, it can be as expensive as the original unit."

COMPROMISING, however, can be the most practical for the greatest number of families, except where too much of a compromise is made.

Sometimes you can compromise on dining space, merging it in the living room. Or you may compromise on children's sleeping quarters with private cubicles for beds, adjoining a common room for play or study. Then, when you can't afford more than one bathroom, one of the most successful compromises lies in compartmenting each fixture and by adding countertop vanity - type lavatories in bedrooms.

You can analyze your own family needs much better than anyone else can do it for you. Since most houses are planned for families of three to five, you won't have any trouble in finding excellent house plans if you are in this category.

But if you have no children and need only one bedroom, you may have to build more bedrooms in order to get financing—the resale value of a one-bedroom house is low.

And if you have an unusually large family you face real trouble in these days of limited materials. Buying and remodeling an older house may be your best bet. Real bargains in old houses are common.

CAPTIVE 19 DAYS. Kim Won Kyu, 11-year-old South Korean boy held by the Communists for 19 days after he wandered into the truce area, takes on a load of rations at Pan Mun Jom after his release. Later he was taken to his parents at nearby Chosan.

Caledonia Class To Present Play

The Junior Class of Caledonia High School will present a three-act play, "A Ready Made Family," a farce by Jay Tobias, Friday, Nov. 9, at 8 p.m.

The plot of the play concerns the affairs of Mrs. Agnes Martyn, a widow with three children, and Henry Turner, a widower with two children. While vacationing at the seashore, the two fall in love and are married. Upon learning the news of the marriage, the children of each of the newlyweds plot to break up the marriage. Most of the action of the play revolves around the antics of the children in trying to get their parents to have the marriage annulled. Mrs. Martyn's neurotic sister-in-law, who can't bear the thought of her brothers' wife being married to another man, also adds to the humor of the story.

The cast includes Betty Weir, Jim Kirk, Peggy Walter, Velma Lyon, Denny Sparrow, Pat Shonk, Mary Lou Cochran, Myron Armbruster and Rodney Dice.
